Athletics and drama were very popular among the ancient Greeks; magnificent amphitheaters and public buildings were designed and built in an effort to satisfy the spectators . . . A few years ago officials at Montana State College realized that they were faced with a similar situation. A large structure was needed to house many of the events of the rapidly growing school. To satisfy this need, work began on the Montana State College Fieldhouse in 1955. Since its completion in the fall of 1957 it has housed rodeos, concerts, stockshows, military drills, golf, track, and basketball. The fieldhouse capacity is 15,000 for boxing or 12,000 when the semi-portable basketball floor is installed. It is the largest clear-span timber structure of its type in the world Two hundred fifty-six 1500 watt lamps provide ample lighting for all activities and the building's sound system is second to none.

Through Time . . .

Lives of great men all remind us
We can make our lives sublime,
And, departing, leave behind us
Footprints on the sands of time;

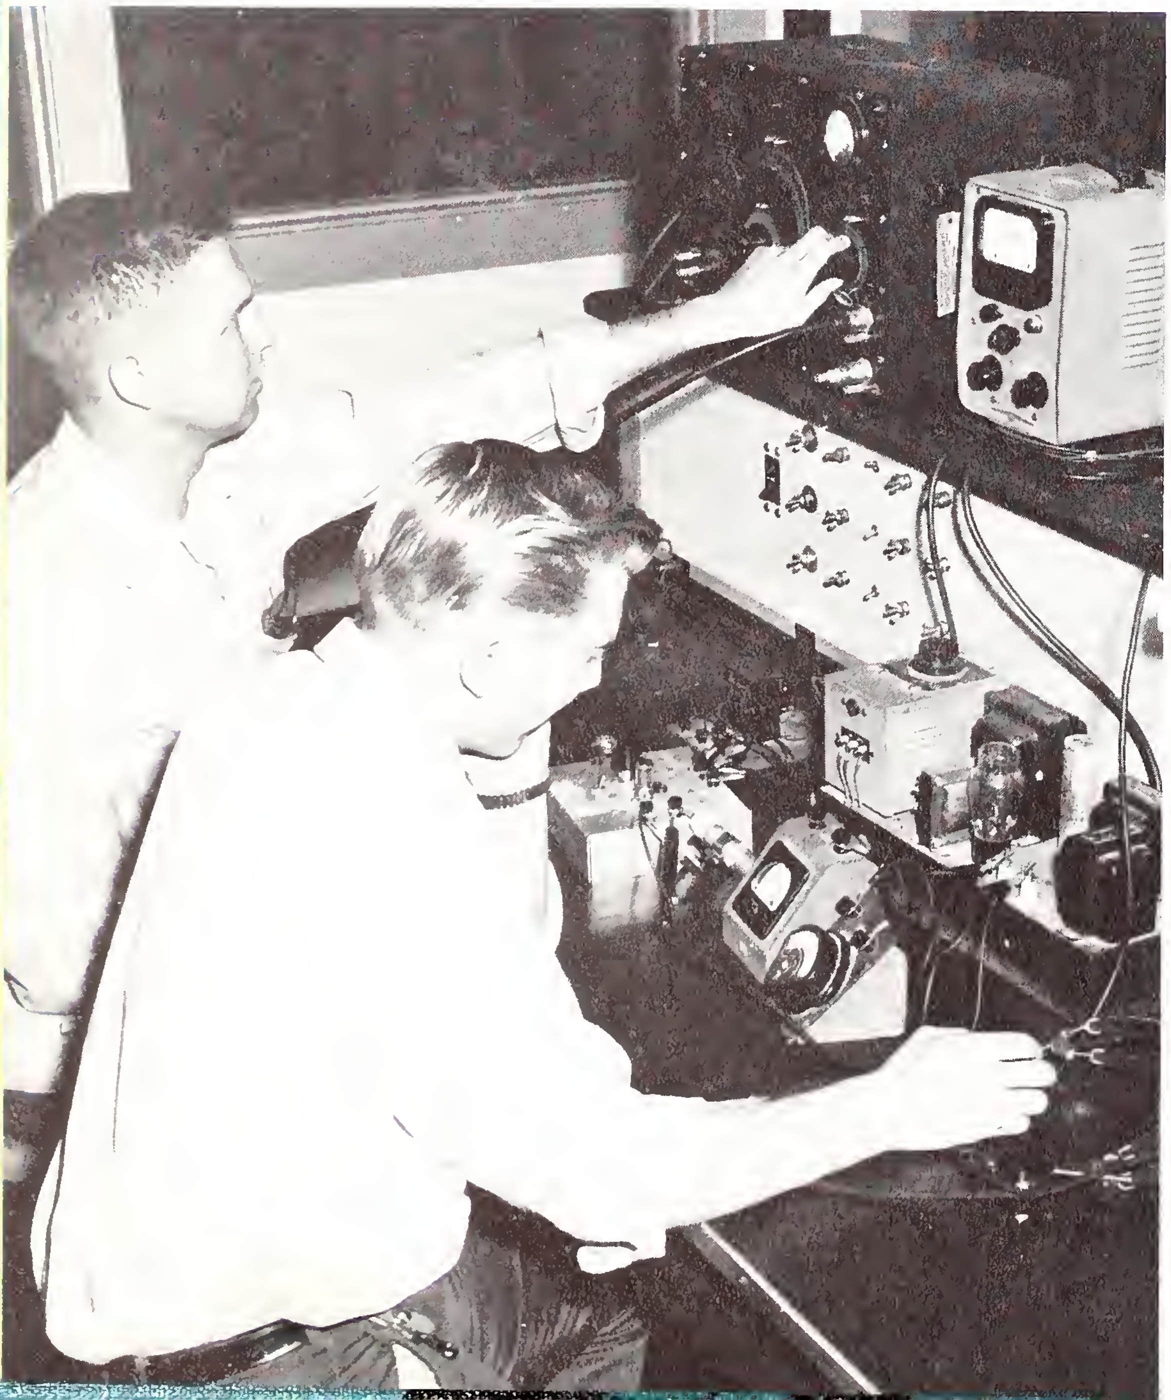
Footprints, that perhaps another,
Sailing o'er life's solemn main,
A forlorn and shipwrecked brother,
Seeing, shall take heart again.

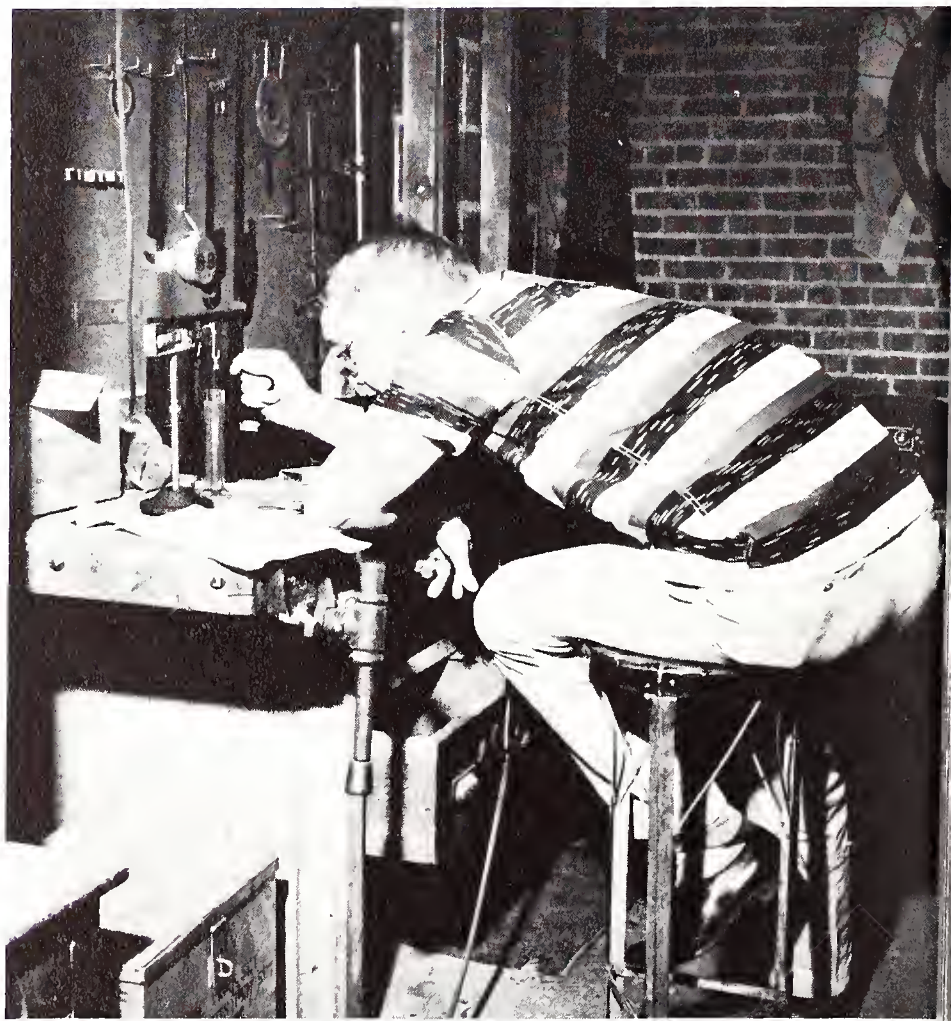
Let us, then, be up and doing,
With a heart for any fate;
Still achieving, still pursuing,
Learn to labor and to wait.

Henry W. Longfellow

We gain knowledge...

The basic incentive for learning is awakened when a child becomes curious and asks his first questions. Throughout childhood and youth this questioning continues, as does the corresponding increase in learning. To progress in his quest for knowledge, the student must often seek things out in a concentrated manner; he must delve deeper into fields which catch his interest, and conquer that which challenges him. Around this theory of natural inquisitiveness, the Greeks built their efficient education system — and thus, their whole advanced civilization. And so today, around this innate desire for knowledge is built the educational systems of modern nations. Through questions, through the seeking of satisfactory answers to them, and through the ultimate finding of these answers — we gain knowledge.





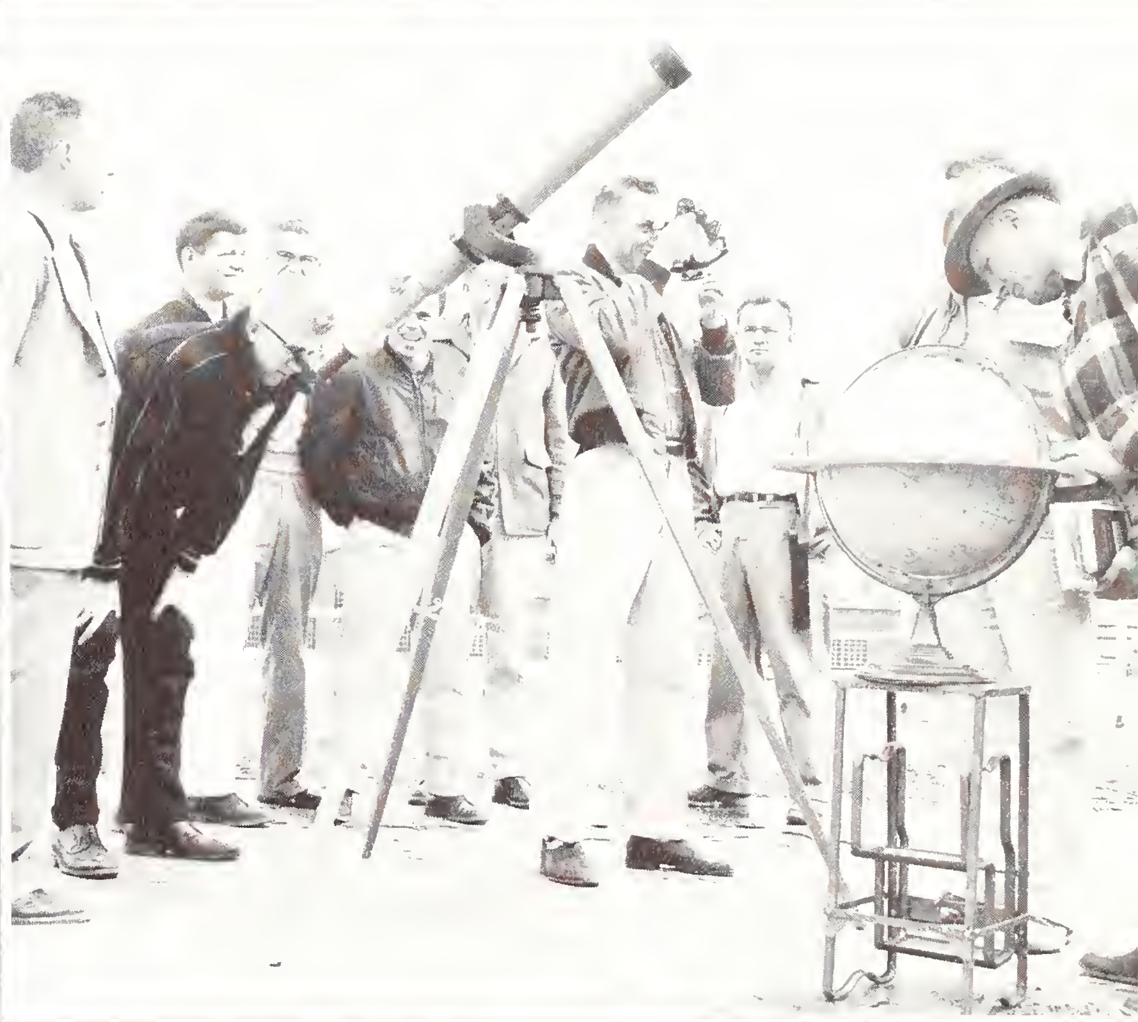
Individual endeavor — the key to personal achievement.

The world of electronics offers new horizons.

Students and faculty alike work to broaden their knowledge.

by working...

Only through work can we hope to gain knowledge and retain it. Work is the standard by which we can measure our successes. The old saying, "You get out of a thing just what you put into it" holds especially true in relation to education. Through work, too, we gain new experiences, make new friends, meet goals and deadlines. Work, in truth, is the essence of learning.



Working with others, we gain both knowledge and friendship.

Utilizing the achievements of others, students prepare for the future.

An hour of relaxation lends extra study time.

Recreation helps relieve the tensions of the day.

Students forget a nerve-wracking day through the aid of these skilled (?) instrumentalists.

Shared laughter adds
momentary merriment.

...relaxing

Through relaxing we take time out to evaluate — the school, the people, ourselves. Often, at some time during the day, we pause briefly from our tightly crammed schedule of activities to rest, to reflect, to relax. And with this rest and reflection come experiences, new and renewed, which will, in the years to come, leave us some of our fondest memories — a necessary complement to learning.

A between-class break helps the day pass faster.

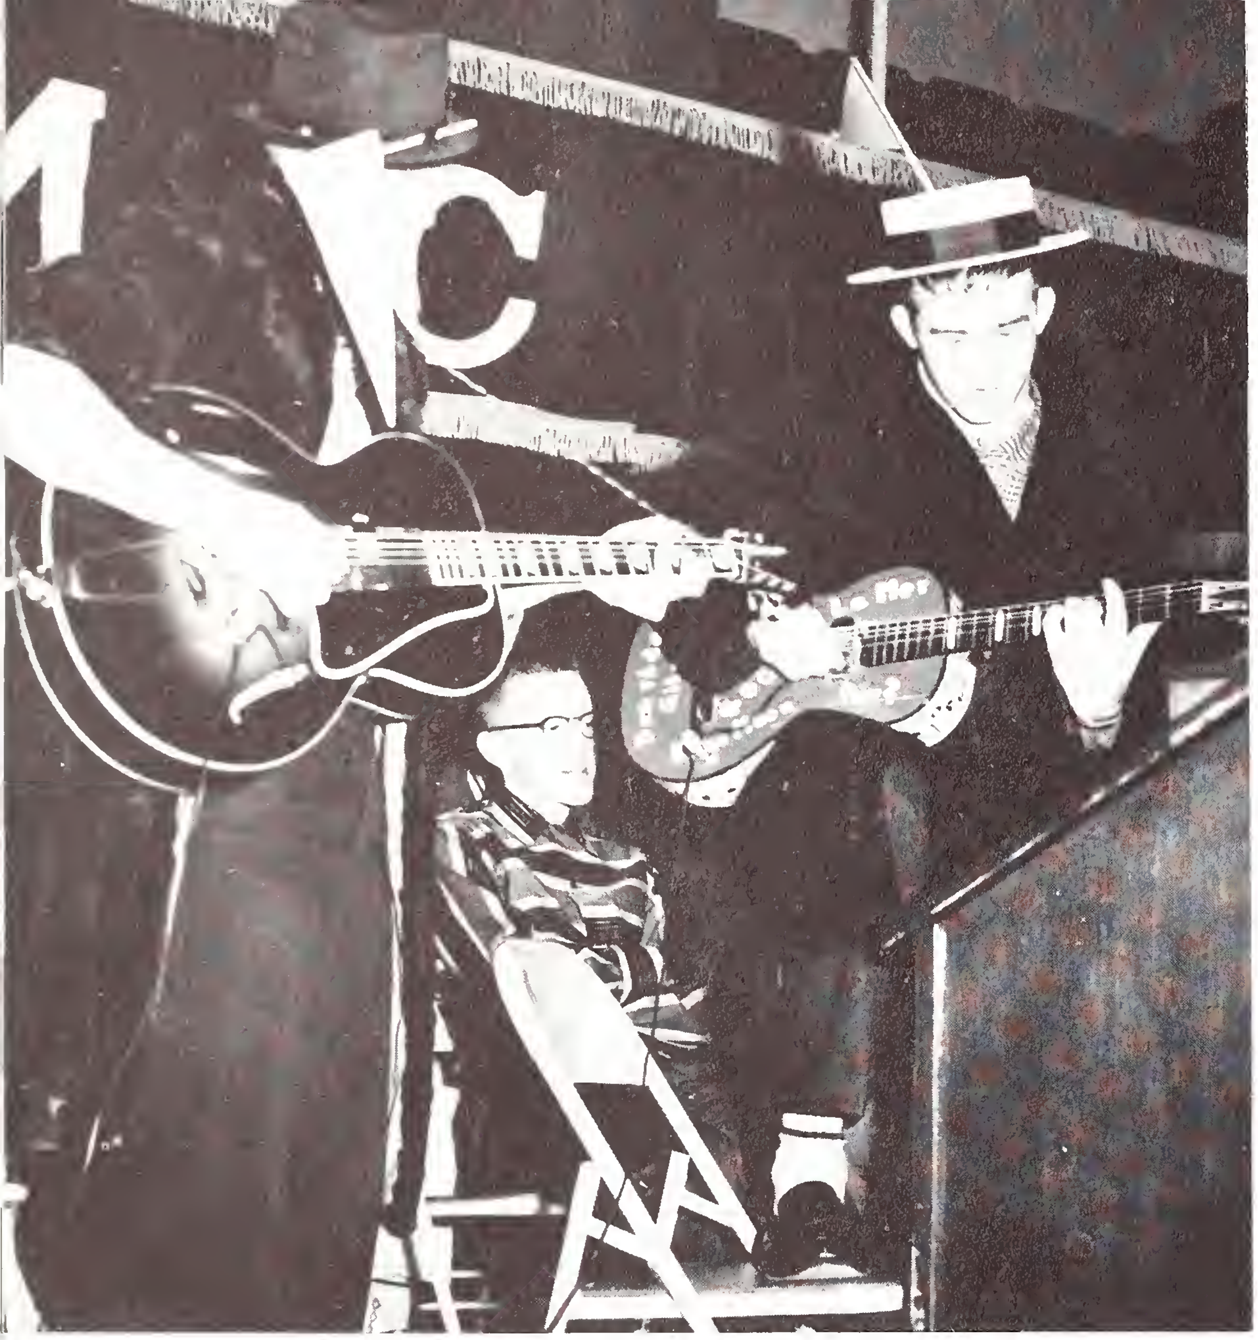
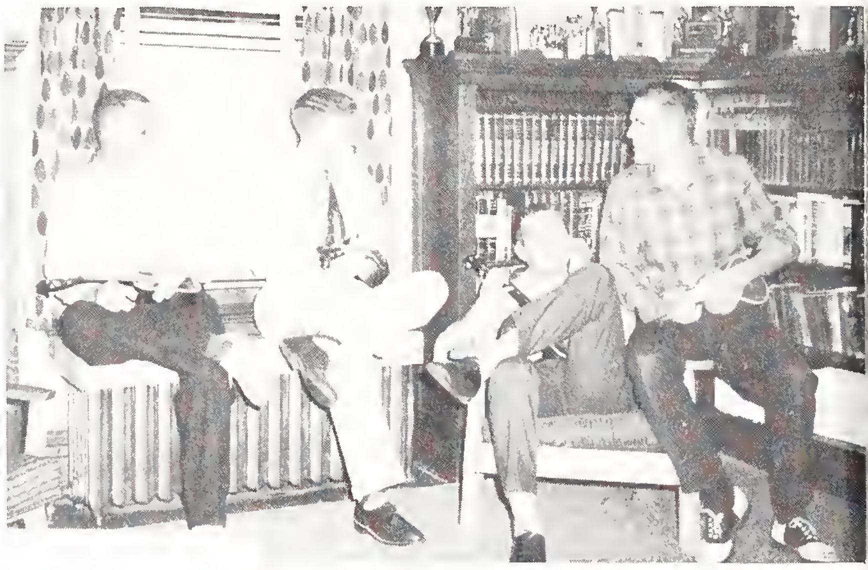
Sleep, a necessity for everyone.



Music sets the mood for enjoyment.

Laughter shows itself where a few gather . . .



. . . or shines on one face.

Royalty is crowned
at social functions.

Contests provide a necessary spirit.

Socialization occurs formally . . .

. . . and in more informal circumstances.

...socializing

Through socializing comes our closest contact with the human element of college life. Living groups form the basis for all our campus socializing. From there our clubs, honoraries, and extra-curricular activities provide us with additional opportunity for association. "Subbing" is an individual form of socialization, but in effect, works collectively. Socializing, then, is the phase of our education through which we gain one of our most valuable assets — lasting friendship with our fellow students.

Serenades, a welcome form of association.

Seminar speakers helped to deepen our convictions.

Religious Emphasis Week guest speakers inspired students with their convincing presentations.

Organized worship services provide a reverent atmosphere.

ODIST CHURC

Informal worship brings personal meditation and renewed faith.

...and building faith

Through worshipping comes the strengthening of our beliefs, the renewal of hope, and the growth of faith in God and man. Worshipping together brings us closer to one another — worshipping alone gives a sense of privacy with our Creator. Through worship we gain a new sense of kinship with God, with man, and with nature. Worship is a very vital and integral facet of our education.

Music, a deeply satisfying way of giving thanks.

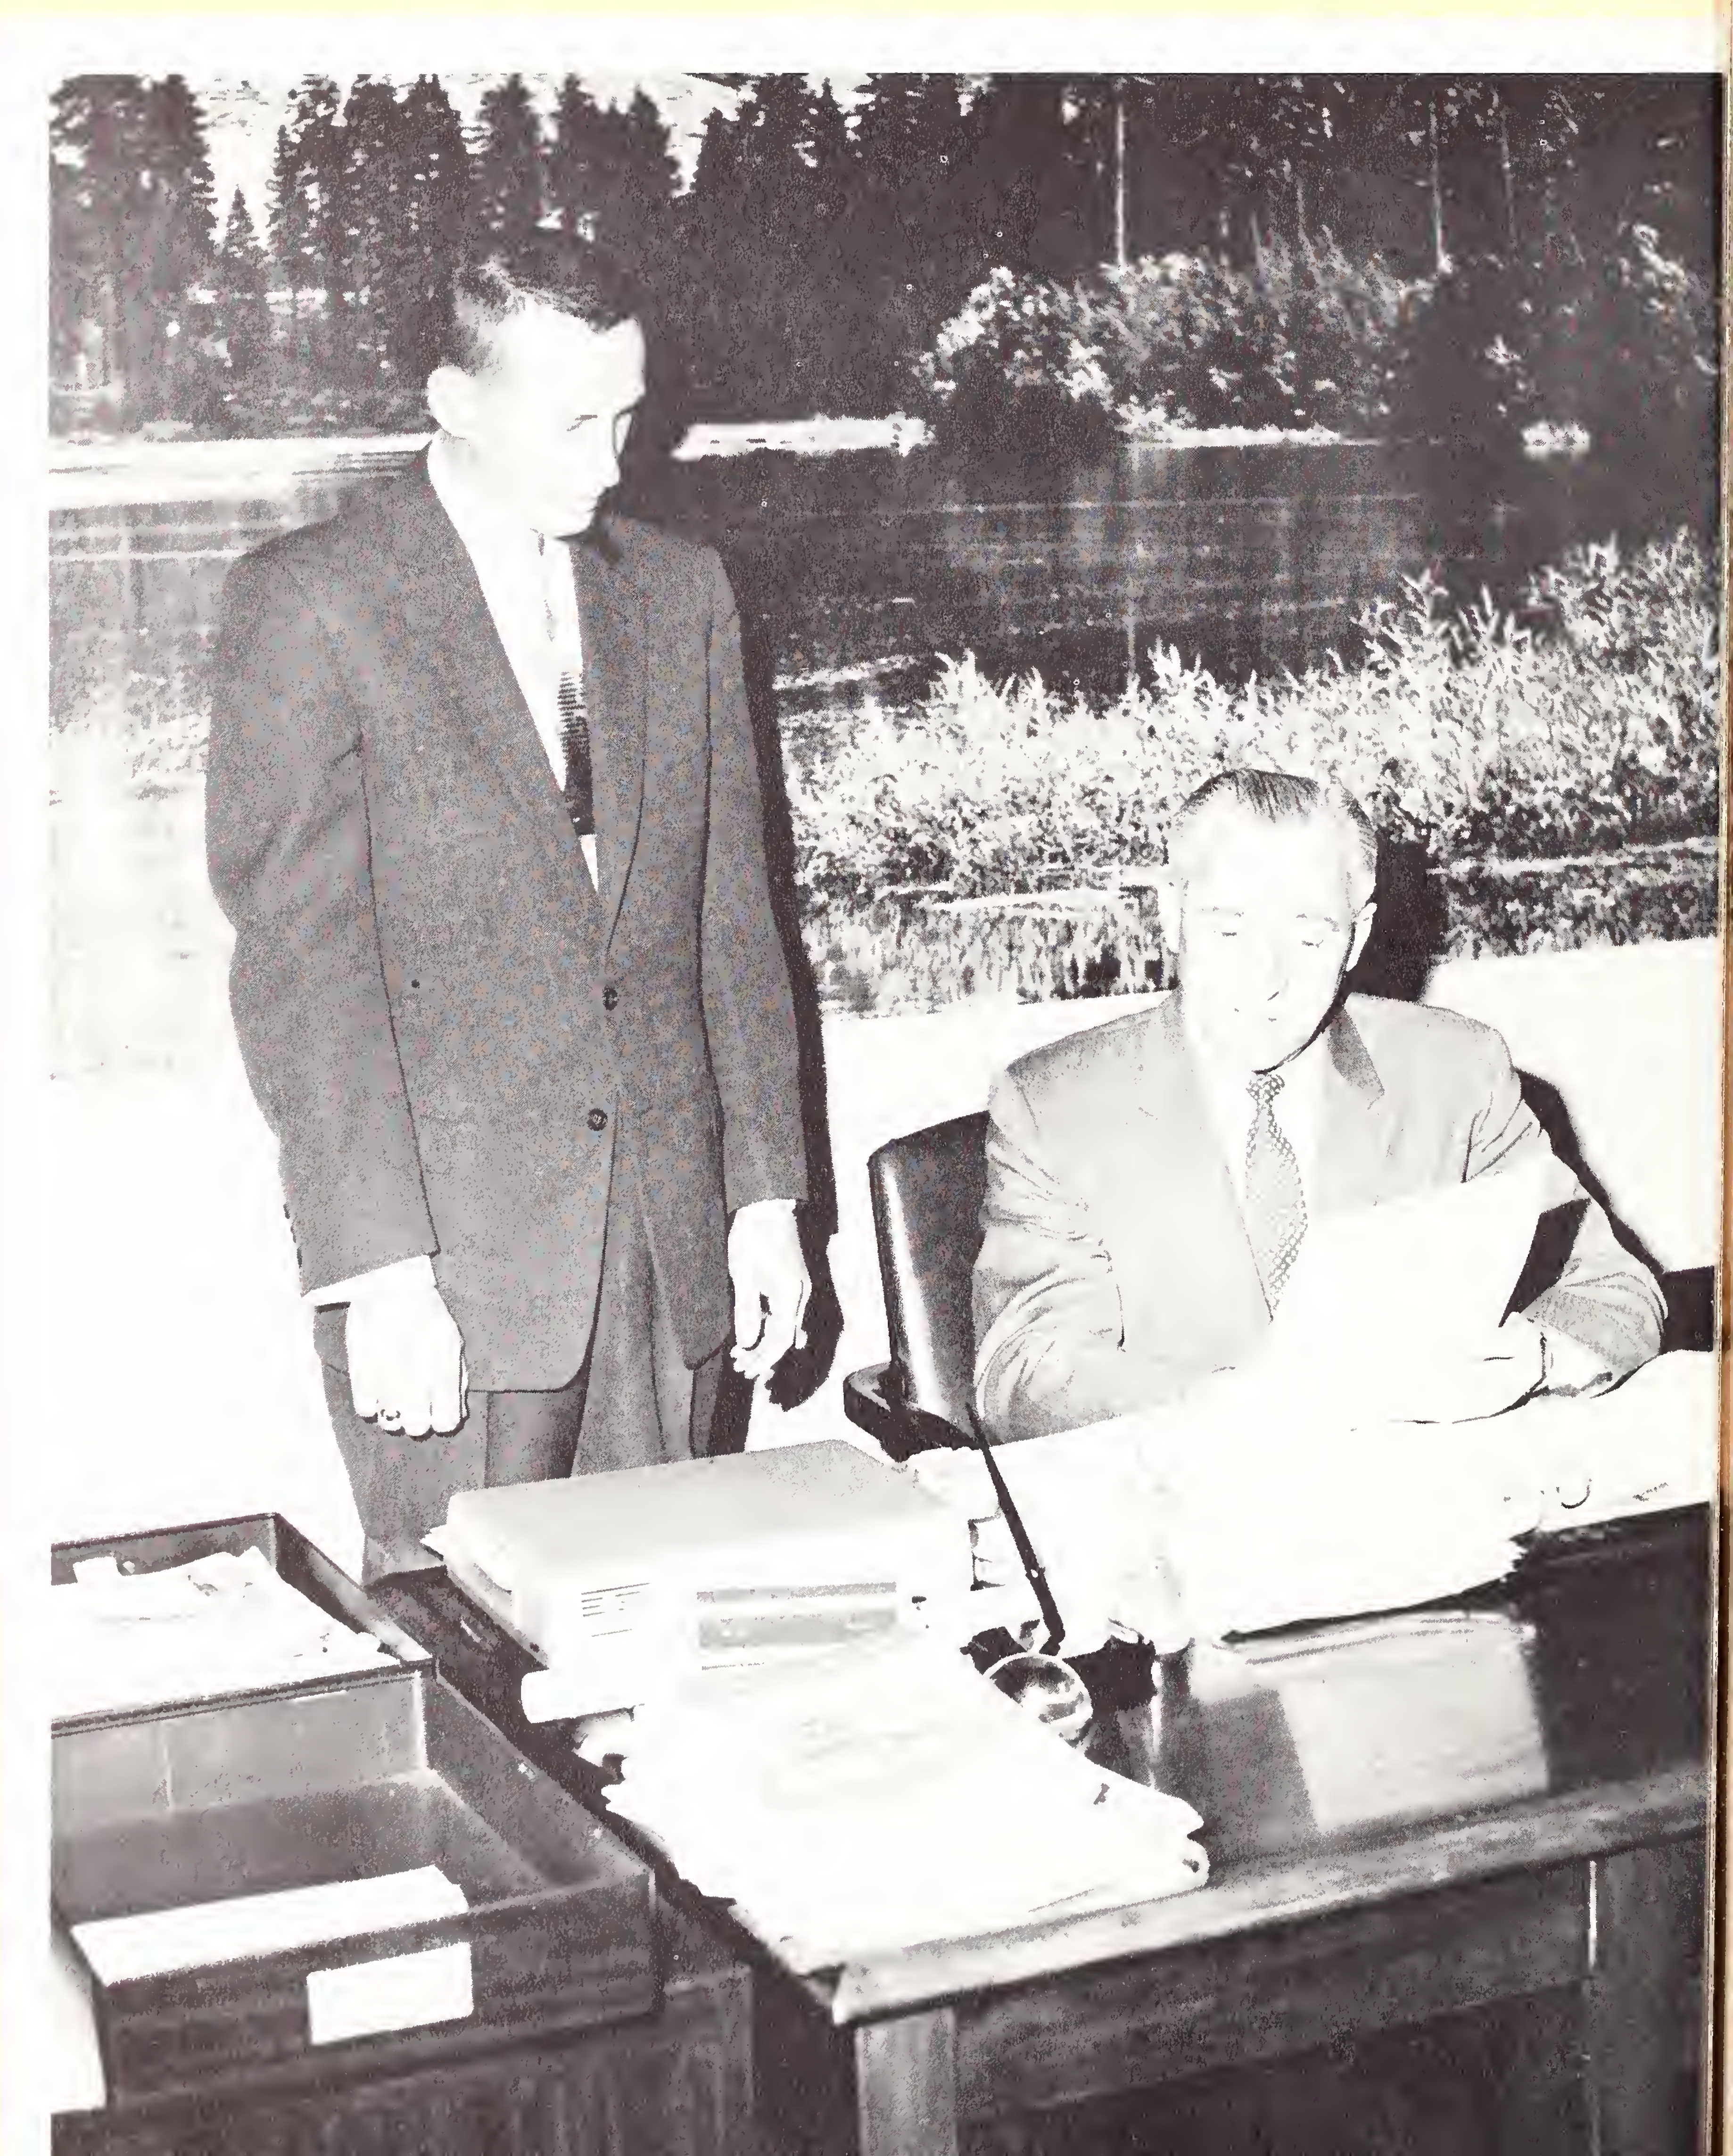
The night has a thousand eyes,
And the day but one;
Yet the light of the bright world dies
With the dying sun.

A chance for religious meditation and worship can be found at Danforth Chapel. To encourage individual religious initiative, the services are often conducted here by the students themselves.

Alas! how changed from the fair scene
  When birds sang out their mellow lay,
And winds were soft, and woods were green,
  And the song ceased not with the day!

Chill airs and wintry winds! my ear
  Has grown familiar with your song;
I hear it in the opening year,
  I listen, and it cheers me long.

H. W. Longfellow



Leadership

All men possess some qualities of leadership, but there are a select few who have the unsurpassable combination necessary to be a good leader. A true leader is more than the most popular personality; he is that individual who uses his knowledge for the betterment of those who elected him. His first concern should be that of the people. The great leaders of the past were men of knowledge who realized that true leadership was directly associated with the qualities of prudence and wisdom.

The President...

Since his inauguration as President of Montana State College fifteen years ago, Dr. R. R. Renne has been the prime factor in guiding the college while its enrollment has more than doubled and its expansion program has continued to grow. Showing purpose, foresight, and keen executive ability, President Renne has won a personal feeling of pride and loyalty in the heart of every student and faculty member at MSC.

Combining diplomacy, efficiency, and a natural enthusiasm for his job as Dean of Students, Val Glynn is a well-known figure to everyone on campus. Fulfilling the multitude of services which are included in his daily work, Dean Glynn also finds time to give ready assistance to students desiring his aid or advice.

...Student Administration

Showing limitless patience and understanding, Dean Esther Brown carries out her many duties as guidance counselor, adviser, and Dean to the women on campus. Her four successful years in this position have served to endear her to the students and to demonstrate her remarkable administrative qualities.

As Dean of the faculty, Vice President P. C. Gaines coordinates much of the administrative phase of work at Montana State College. A kindly, gentle man, Dr. Gaines holds the admiration and respect of both students and faculty members alike.

Events

Through festivals the Greeks provided an outlet for pent-up emotions and a means of relaxation from the rigors of every-day life. This necessity for celebrations has not changed and their purpose can be seen at MSC during such events as Homecoming, M Day, Ski Carnival, and Pi Week. We came to school to learn through instruction and studies — but don't we also learn through a certain amount of relaxation and enjoyment? The answer to this can be seen in the old adage, "All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy."

Some young couples come to

The Freshmen received their

the antagonizing activity of the week.

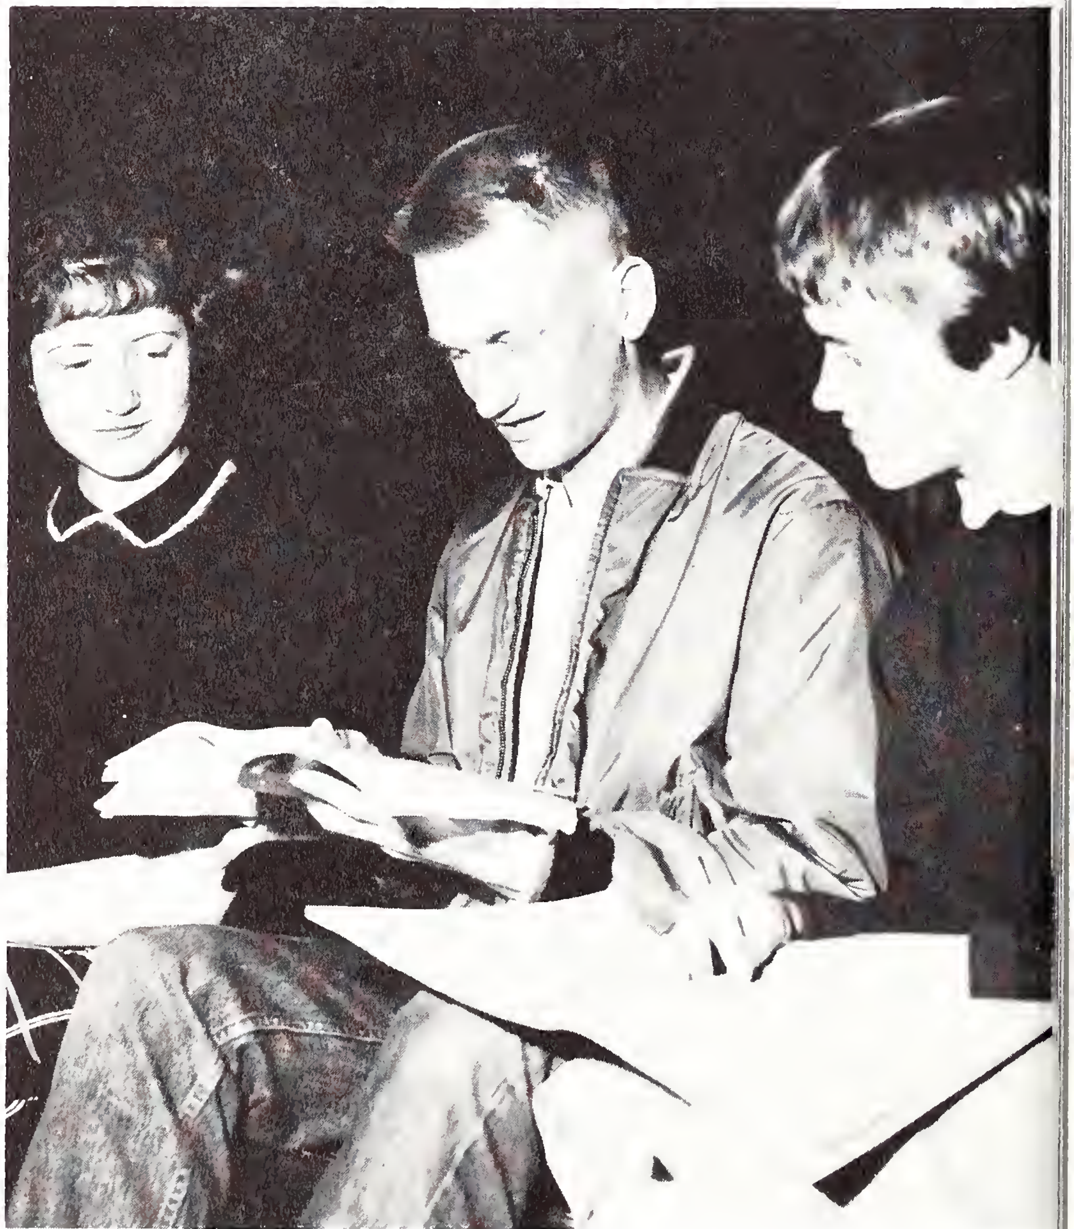
The Freshmen Came



Miss Leigh explains the Student Union Building's facilities to many of the new freshmen.

Before registration it was necessary to plan a tentative schedule of prospective classes.

With the total enrollment more than doubled since 1950, and the 1958 fall enrollment at an all time high, registration brought longer lines, many changed "perfect" schedules, and larger classes than ever before. The Freshmen, experiencing registration for the first time, soon felt like police suspects going through the traditional "line-up." But in spite of what seemed like hours of waiting, the added load of fall registration was carried off smoothly and with little delay (though much confusion) for Frosh and upperclassmen alike.

There are many cards to fill out.
Oh yes, don't forget they must be in ink!

The Homecoming Ball featured the pleasant music of Les Elgart.

"Alice in Wonderland" was the theme behind the Pi Phi's float, which took first place in the sorority float division.

Rhythm, a necessary constituent of any parade, was provided by the marching band.

Homecoming, Windy But Victorious

The "Mjork" band toured the town the day before Homecoming, creating general havoc.

BAMBI WELCOMES YO

FORES

"Bambi" was the theme for the KD's lawn decoration, which took first place in the sorority division.

"Disneyland" was the theme and the organized living groups certainly lived up to it by building beautiful floats and house decorations featuring Disneyland characters. A "Mjork" contest was sponsored in honor of the 1933 Montanan (Mjork was a personality which Editor Dave Rivenes used to good advantage in editing his All-American Yearbook.)

WELCOME ALU

The SAE's took first place in fraternity lawn decorations with their illustration of Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs.

Saturday, October 18, dawned a clear but slightly windy day for the Homecoming Parade, the Bobcats' Homecoming victory over Idaho State, and last, but best, the Homecoming Ball.

One of the most unique floats in the parade was the SAE's Cinderella coach drawn by six shetland ponies.

As a delayed continuance of their initial orientation to dear old MSC, the Frosh were given the distinct privilege (?) of climbing the M for its autumn renovation.

A number of the early arrivals began the long trek up the mountainside.

The Frosh painted the M

Horseplay was not unusual around the concessions stand at the foot of the Mountain.

Action was fast and furious during the Freshmen-Sophomore Scrap. The Freshmen won.

Three Freshman girls stand on the lawn by Hannon Hall and discuss the day's events.

Freshmen were routed out of bed at an impossible hour by unpleasantly cheerful, singing Spurs and Fangs, and were unceremoniously loaded into vans for the trip up. The Frosh were deposited at the base of the mountain, given mops, cans of water, or sacks of lime and told to CLIMB! Although more lime was spattered on the students than on the M itself, the end result was a slightly whiter M and many tired, white-faced Freshmen.

Montanan photographer Jim Huggins swaps his camera for a girl.

And Enjoyed Fall Dances

Everyone enjoyed themselves at the S'no Foolin' Ball.

After spending all week hard at work with their studies, the students enjoyed the chance to relax and socialize at the variety of fall quarter dances. Special dances featured were the Harvest Ball, the Spotlight Dance, the girls' favorite, the S'no Foolin' Ball, and the Homecoming Ball with the music of Les Elgart. The "M" Day and Freshman Week mixers provided a fine opportunity for newcomers to meet their fellow students and make many new friends and for returning upperclassmen to polish up their dancing.

The Pi Phi's sang the beautiful song, "What Child Is This?"

Christmas Sing Participation was Good

"Carol of the Bells" was the song the Kappa Sig's selected for the occasion.

Everyone joined together to give magnificent volume to "O Come All Ye Faithful."

The last scheduled function before finals week of Fall Quarter, the Christmas Sing was well attended and served as a final break before a week of concentrated study. Presenting traditional and little-known carols, and light and spirited newer seasonal songs, many campus groups joined together to produce an admirable program. With the MSC Concert Orchestra complementing the vocal portion of the program, the Christmas Sing was carried out in a traditionally meaningful fashion.

Judy Dieruf, Alpha Gamma Delta candidate, is presented the Pi Week Queen trophy by the 1958 winner, Terry Potter, at the Pi Week mixer.

Contestants from each sorority competed for the title of Pie-Eating Champ in the girls' division.

Pi Kap's Sponsored Annual Pi Week

Votes for Pi Queen candidates were tabulated by placing marbles in the jar of one's choice.

Pi Kappa Alpha sponsors a yearly Pi Week as a fund-raising project for the polio drive. Individual pies are sold nightly throughout the week at the Pi Kap house. Each pie bought allows one vote for the queen candidate of one's choice. A mixer and a pie-eating contest climaxed the week's activities.

Pie Eating Champ in the boys' division, Baan Wille, proudly exhibits his trophy.

"Last of the Five Thousand" was the theme of Sigma Alpha Epsilon's first place men's division winner.

First-place winner of women's division for snow sculpture was Kappa Delta's sleigh scene.

Downhill slalom was the main event featured in the Ski Weekend races.

Speed, spills and shivers were prominent in winter ski activities.

Snow Carnival Weather Was Good

Winter Quarter saw the ski addicts off to the infirmary. Nevertheless, the Snow Carnival proceeded in grand style with the entire campus participating. The organized houses and dorms erected ingenious snow sculptures, and the more athletic students took part in the ski meet held at Bridger Bowl. This snowy weekend was climaxed by the Ski Dance with Marno Bennett and Suzy Hawks being crowned the 1959 Snow King and Queen.

Ski hill proved a popular place for leisure-time activity.

Ski team members exhibit their talents.

Alpha Gamma Delta's sculpture portrayed children building a traditional snowman.

Spring quarter gave disgruntled students the chance to retaliate against the profs. A "Meanest Professor" Contest sponsored by World University Service allowed students to vote for their "favorite" candidate, donating funds to WUS at the same time. The contest was climaxed by the crowning of the winner, Dr. K. Goering, at the WUS Bandstand Dance on April 10th.

Winter, A Social Season

Entertainment at the International Ball included music characteristic of various foreign countries.

With the advent of Winter Quarter came the big social season of the school year. Fraternity sponsored functions such as the Pi Week Mixer and the Derby Dance were highly successful. The Chinese Auction and the International Ball added a cosmopolitan touch to the season. Climaxing the winter activities was the Military Ball, the last weekend of the quarter.

The Pi Phi's annual Derby Dance featured derbies, hearts, and soft music. Proceeds from the dance go to the Pi Phi philanthropic project.

Danforth Chapel was visited by students between classes and for daily vesper services.

A reception the opening day of REW acquainted students and speakers with activities of the coming week.

REW speakers attended dinners and spoke to the various living groups nightly throughout the week.

Dr. Charles Boddie told students of race prejudice in the South and its connection with Christianity.

Using the theme, "His Way, Our College, My Life," eight guest clergymen from various parts of the United States presented a full week of seminars, assemblies, and worship services. Outstanding among these were Father Joseph Gregori, Rector of the St. Thomas Episcopal Church in Sioux City, Iowa, and a native of Spain, and Doctor Charles Boddie, a Baptist minister influencial in the present segregation movement.

During spring quarter many students in dungarees could be seen scurrying around the college barns in preparation for the 25th Annual Little International. Behind-the-scenes preparation was also taking place with committee work concerning various phases of the show. The two-day show, which was held in the fieldhouse, drew spectators from all over the state. Prizes valued at $1500 were awarded to the winners on the basis of showmanship and the exhibitor's ability to properly fit his animal.

by Dave Whitham, editor.

Spring quarter activities included formal dances besides the usual outdoor functions. Montanan Ball, a relatively new annual spring affair, featured the Planettes, a local student music group. Votes by the student body elected Fran Forney as 1959 Montanan Queen. Seniors were guests of the junior class at the annual Junior Prom. The music of Billy May's well-known orchestra highlighted the affair.

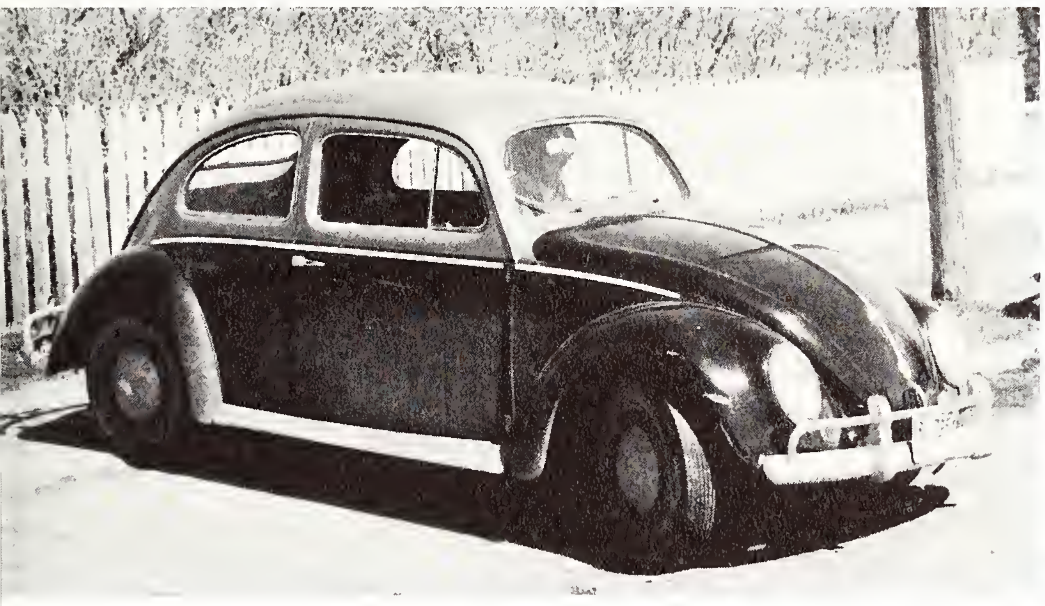
MSC

Well, the '58-'59 school year has come and gone and with it came and went the usual amount of changes and renovations at MSC. Reid Hall was completed and the new women's dorm, Hapner Hall rapidly raised its walls against the skyline. Carillon bells were installed atop Hamilton Hall and their sound brightened many otherwise gray mornings. With fall quarter enrollment at 3875, additional faculty and newly utilized classroom space were more than welcome to aid in accommodating the largest registration MSC has ever had.

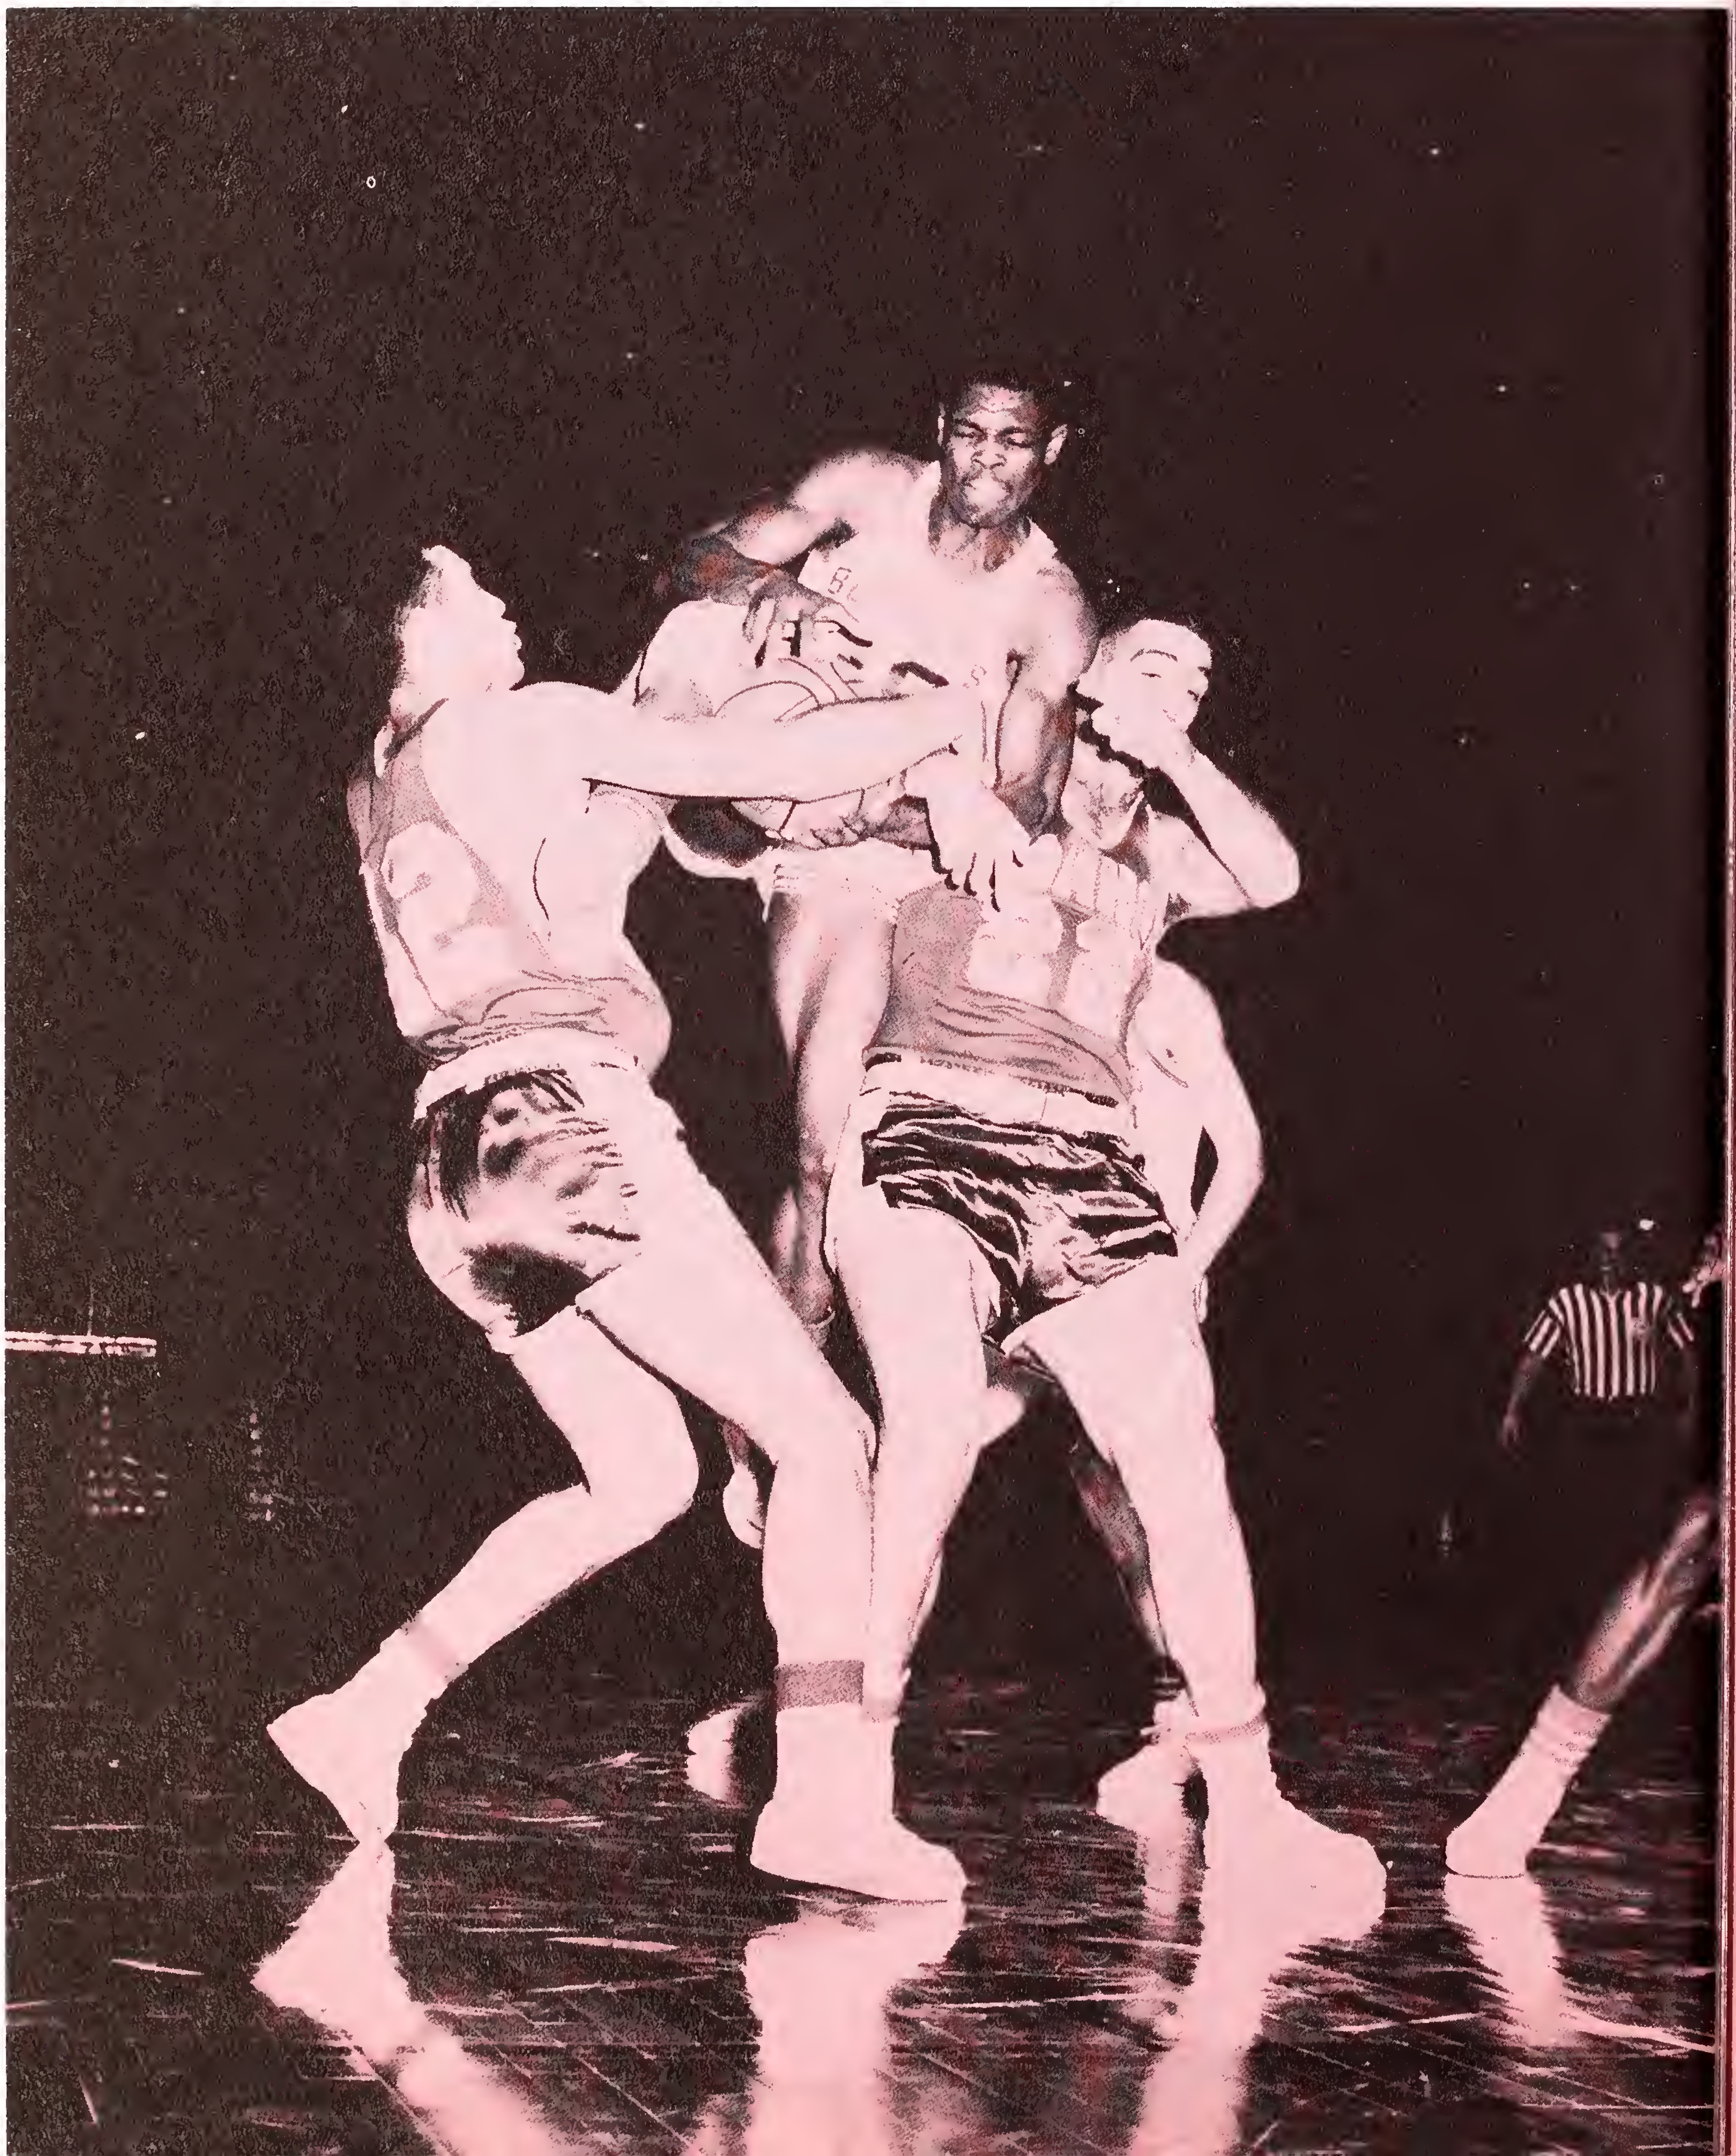
A common sight this year, the Volkswagon.



The Stone Quarry . . .

All in All, an Interesting Year

The IBM 650, dubbed the "supersonic moron," performed its share of services for the school. The Health Center, yielding to the demand of a more sophisticated student body, initiated pink and red pills in place of the traditional blue and gold "glorified" aspirin. Styles continued to change as the well-dressed student kept pace with the newest creations. Sack dresses went out to be replaced by the Empire waistline (for men unversed in current feminine wearing apparel, this is a high, modified waistline.) Leotards were standard for winter days, streamlined tennis shoes and "socks up" set the style as spring progressed. Trench coats made their entrance, replacing winter's Borgana. Men's styles varied little, although crewneck sweaters became the thing for all smart students to wear. Favorite phrases and expressions heard on campus reflected the progressive views of the "Beat generation." The lucky students (or the conscientious ones) "boomed" their tests. Those over-imbibing in drink were said to be "shot down." "Like — Wow ! !" and "Sounds like a winner" showed the up-to-date student's approval. True "college" atmosphere arrived at our alma mater in the form of a small, exotic place known as the "Stone Quarry." The "phantom," the "blob," and just plain spooks made midnight appearances at dorms, sororities, and fraternities, leaving behind such calling cards as "Happy Fourth of July" on third floor windows. Celebrating student politicians, temporarily detained in action, instigated their own brand of "terrorizing." All in all, it must be agreed that the past school year has not been without its due share of excitement. Best of all events (of both national and local importance) is, according to the editor of the Montana Engineer, whom we shall allow to go unnamed: "Elvis Presley is at last in the Army!"



Athletics

Long ago the desire for personal achievement invoked the development of such highly competitive events as track and field. The talents of the top performers in each event induced the admiration and respect of both his competitors and the spectators. More recently in history a need arose for a sport which would require the united effort of a number of individuals. This led to the development of many of our modern day sports, such as football, basketball, and baseball. Both types of competition have a very important place in our present society.

Basketball Coach

No collegiate sport could function without the invaluable services of the coaching staff. MSC's fine coaches spurred their teams to victory in football, basketball, golf, wrestling, boxing, skiing, and track and field events this year. The school takes pride in its coaches and thanks them for a job well done.

Here is the awesome young giant of Montana State College. Already housing many of the school's activities, the fieldhouse is destined to continue to grow in usefulness as time goes on. The late evening sun shines on the mammoth structure to create the scene you see here . . .

With their enthusiasm, the cheerleaders kept the cheering section aroused sufficiently to really support the team.

A strong line and a deceptive backfield were combined to make this year's grid squad one of the best in the school's history. Idaho State's fourteen game winning streak crumpled under the Bobcats' powerful attack, and Bob Webb, shifty aerial artist of St. Ambrose, was stymied by the "Cats' " strong pass defense. The team's only loss was suffered at the hands of the rough and ready team of California Polytechnic.

Montana State 17, Idaho State 6

Facing a six point half-time deficit, the Bobcats utilized the sure toe of Brad Lowell and the powerful line plunging of Rocco Perciavalle to surge to victory over powerful Idaho State, thus making Homecoming a complete success.

A large crowd lingered after the game to watch a number of MSC students endeavor to tear down the goal posts.

Half-time activity included a performance by the MSC Army Drill Team.

Post-game activity was as exciting as the game itself.

Rivalry was extremely high for this year's tussle with the Montana State University Grizzlies. Although more experienced by a tougher schedule, the Grizzlies could not out-do the MSC eleven.

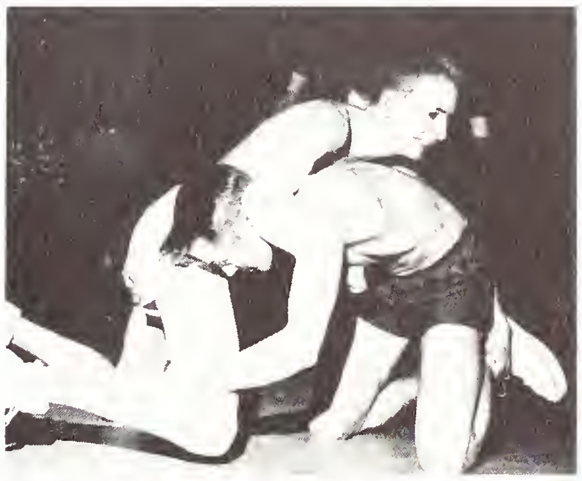
Top bowlers this year were the Sigma Chi's.

The Phi Sig's and Sigma Chi's battle it out in this intramural basketball game. The Sig's won.

During fall quarter, the intramural sports race was highly contested between the A.G.R.'s and the Sigma Chi's. Winter quarter, however, saw the Sig's take a decisive lead by blanketing first place in all intramural events.

Intramurals



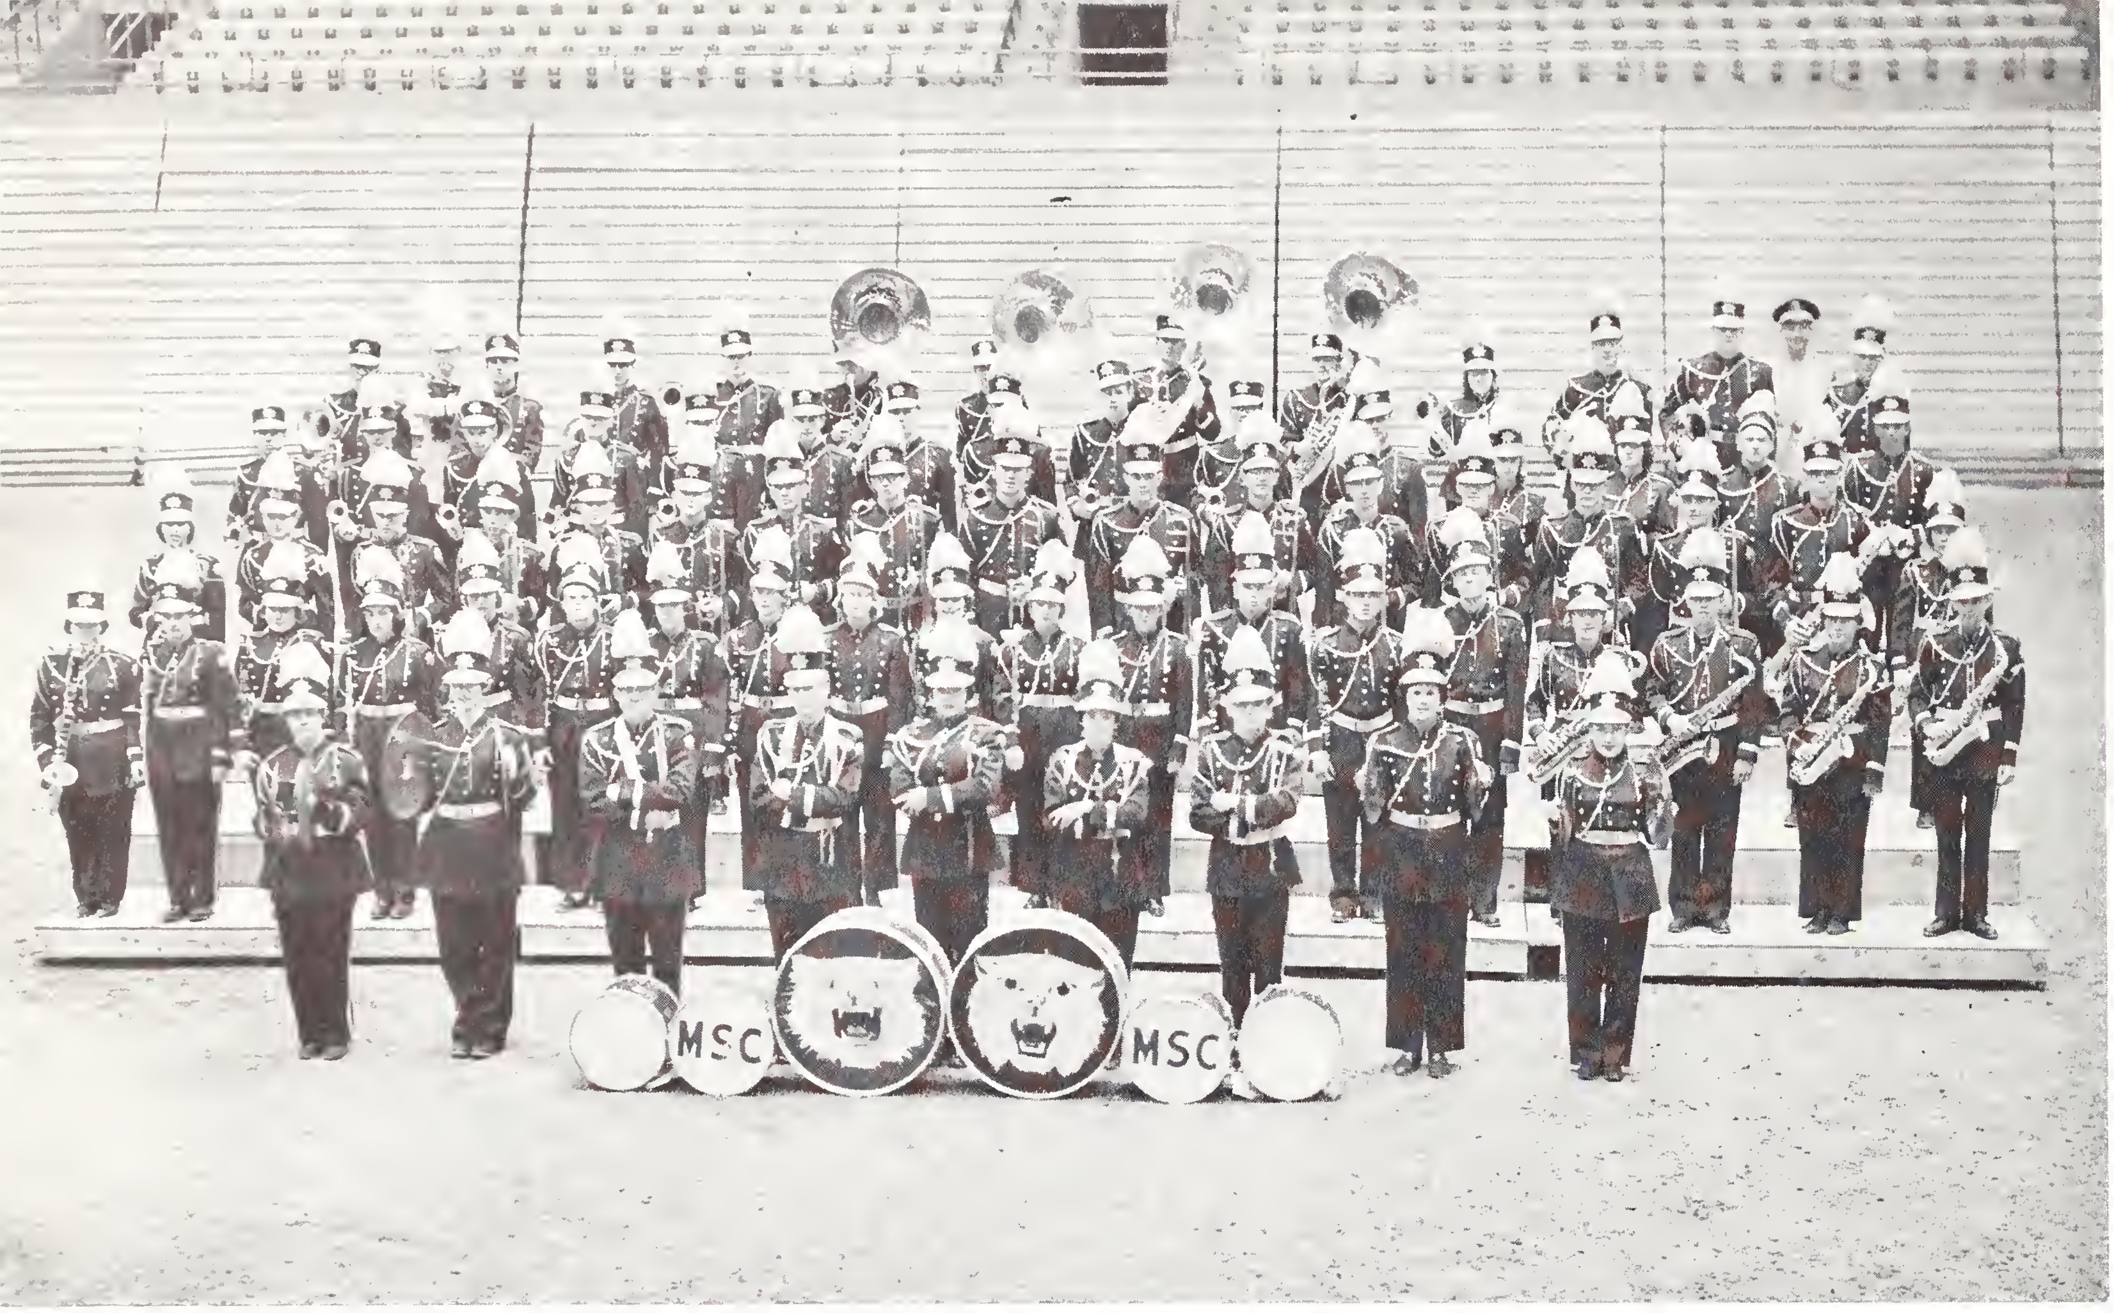
Gary Cunningham, A.G.R., defeats Dave Schlechten, Sigma Chi, for the 123 pound wrestling championship.

The fellow on the bottom is in a tough position.

Alpha Gamma Rho came through for a first place in intramural football competition.

Performers

The ability to portray a variety of emotions to a waiting audience is an art which has been handed down through countless generations. The theater provides a situation upon which the performers may build, to the best of their ability, a characterization of the individuals they are portraying. But entertainment can be conceived in a wide variety of ways — not all performers must participate in drama. Those with musical or speaking talents are just as deserving of recognition.



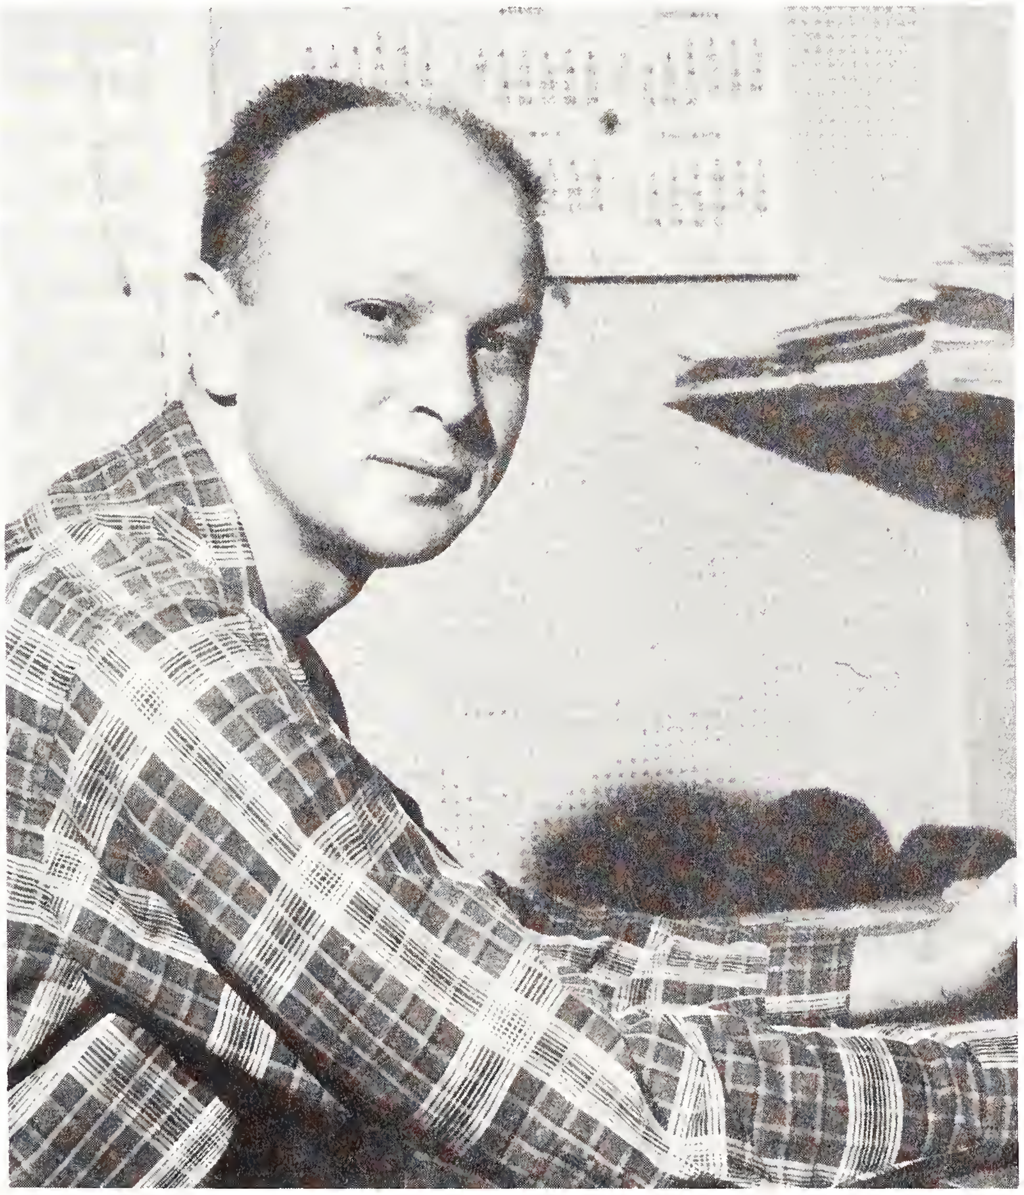
The Marching Band

Bobcat band members and twirlers gave a chilly half-time performance at the traditional MSC-MSU game in Missoula.

The Marching Band provided a great deal of entertainment with little reward as they played through a busy football and hectic basketball season. Director Ed Sedivy was unable to get the group together for many practice sessions, but invariably the members did their best and the performances turned out well.

The performances of the Symphonette require a great deal of work and energy.

Symphonette



Selected from the MSC Civic Symphony, the members of the Symphonette perform the year around. Highlights of the year are playing for the "Messiah," two concerts, two summer programs and the spring tour.

Creech Reynolds, able director of the Symphonette, prepares the program for a concert.

Concert Chorus

Concert Chorus meets for an informal practice session.

A tour of Montana by the sixty members of Concert Chorus was the highlight of a year of singing together. Led by hard-working Maurice Casey, the group has spent many long hours of practice to attain their high level of musical perfection.

A number of performances were given at school assemblies, etc.

Long hours of work and practice went into each performance
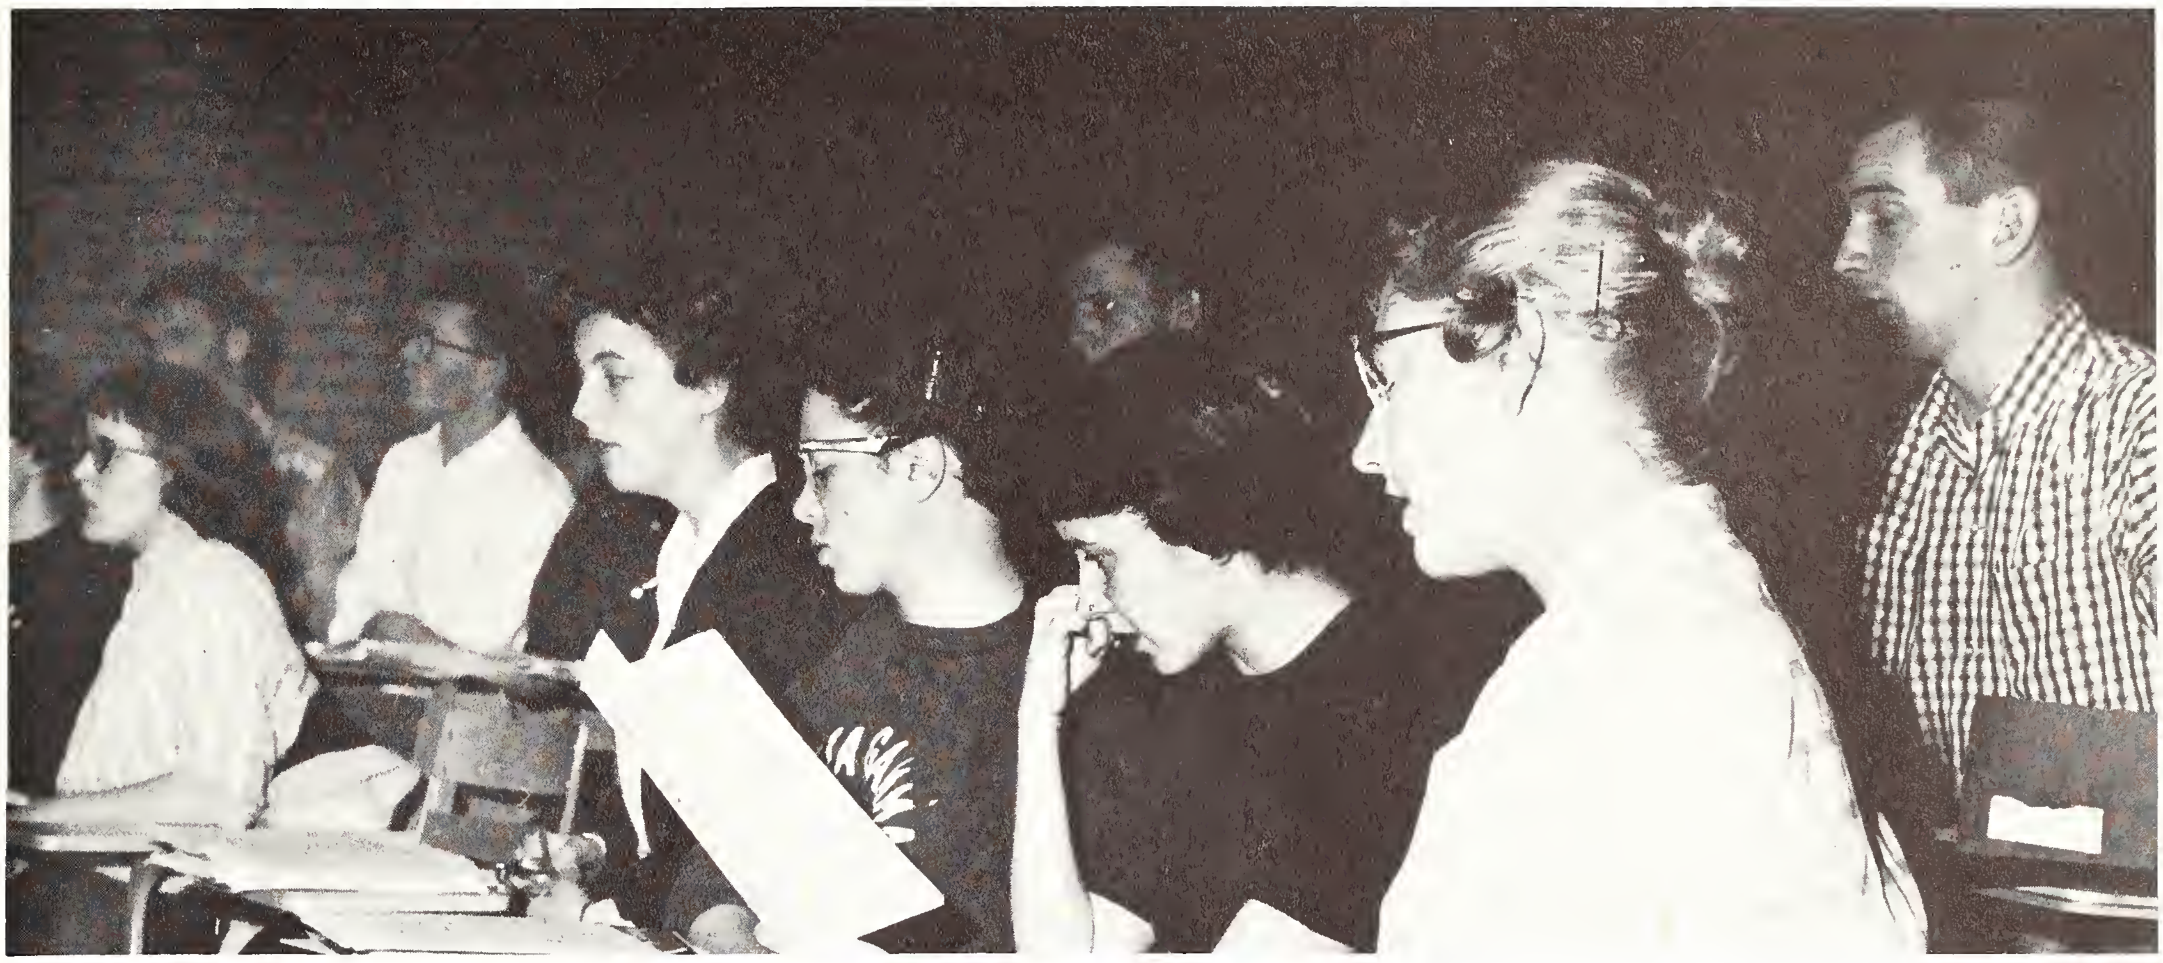
given by the Madrigals.



Madrigals

Casey puzzles over a problem
during one of the Madrigal's many busy rehearsals.

Twenty-three talented vocalists were selected for Madrigals fall quarter. Their excellent performances under the capable direction of Maurice Casey have been enjoyed by audiences all over Montana. A very busy group, the Madrigals added to the Elks' and College Minstrel Shows, assemblies, Community Concerts, and many conventions and meetings held in Bozeman.

Long practice sessions are paid for in full by satisfied thoughts of a musical job well done.

The play is an adaptation of the original Greek tragedy by Euripedes. Medea, brought by Jason from her homeland, is rejected when he decides to marry the King's daughter. In revenge, Medea murders the King's daughter and her sons, and leaves Jason broken as she escapes to another kingdom.

The Mayor reminds the Judge that he should be careful what decision he hands down,
as elections are coming up.

Medea plots her revenge on Jason and his bride while her servant listens in terror and despair.

Greek Play "Medea" Successful

The women of Corinth commiserate with Medea in the loss of her husband to the princess of Corinth.

Jason is deluded into thinking that Medea is resigned to exile with their sons.

Medea has her last revenge on Jason as she confronts him covered with the blood of his murdered sons.

"Inherit the Wind" is based on the true story of the Scopes Trial. William Jennings Bryan and Clarence Darrow met forces in a trial concerning whether evolution should be taught in the high school. The play brings to life the fiery explosiveness of the personalities involved.

Rachel Brown tries to convince Bert Cates that he should give up his ridiculous ideas and admit that he is wrong.

"Inherit the Wind" Praised at Dancing School

ARE YOU A MAN

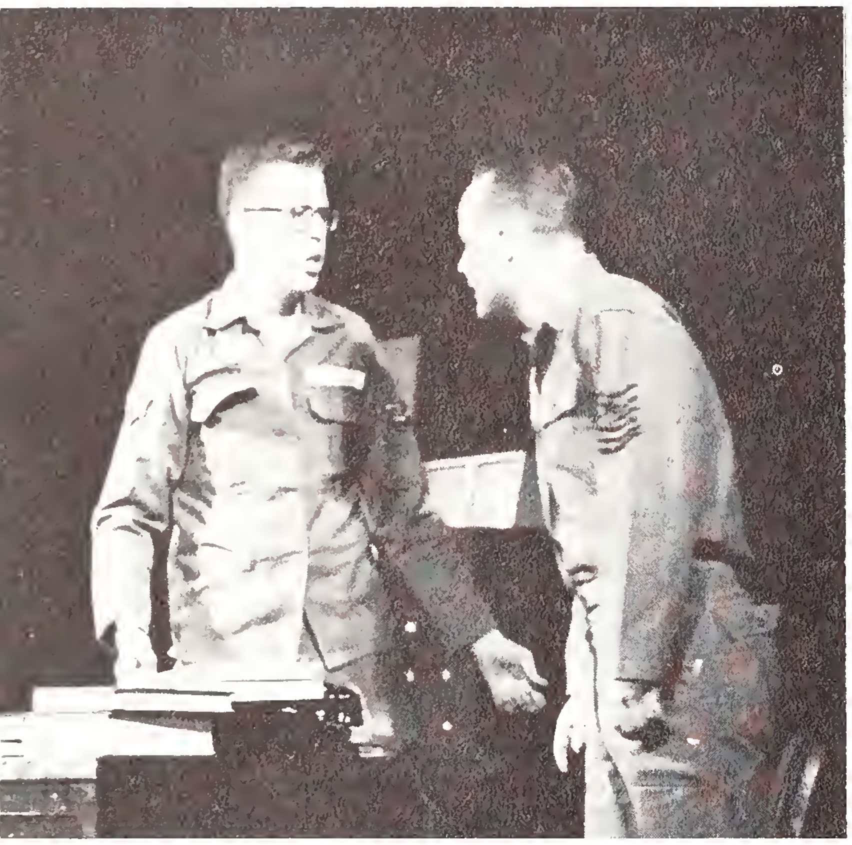
Brady responds violently to Drummond's questions.

Brady addresses the townspeople upon his arrival.

"A Season for Crying" is an original play written by Jeanette Elpel.

"No Sweat!" was an original comedy by Robert Carroll.

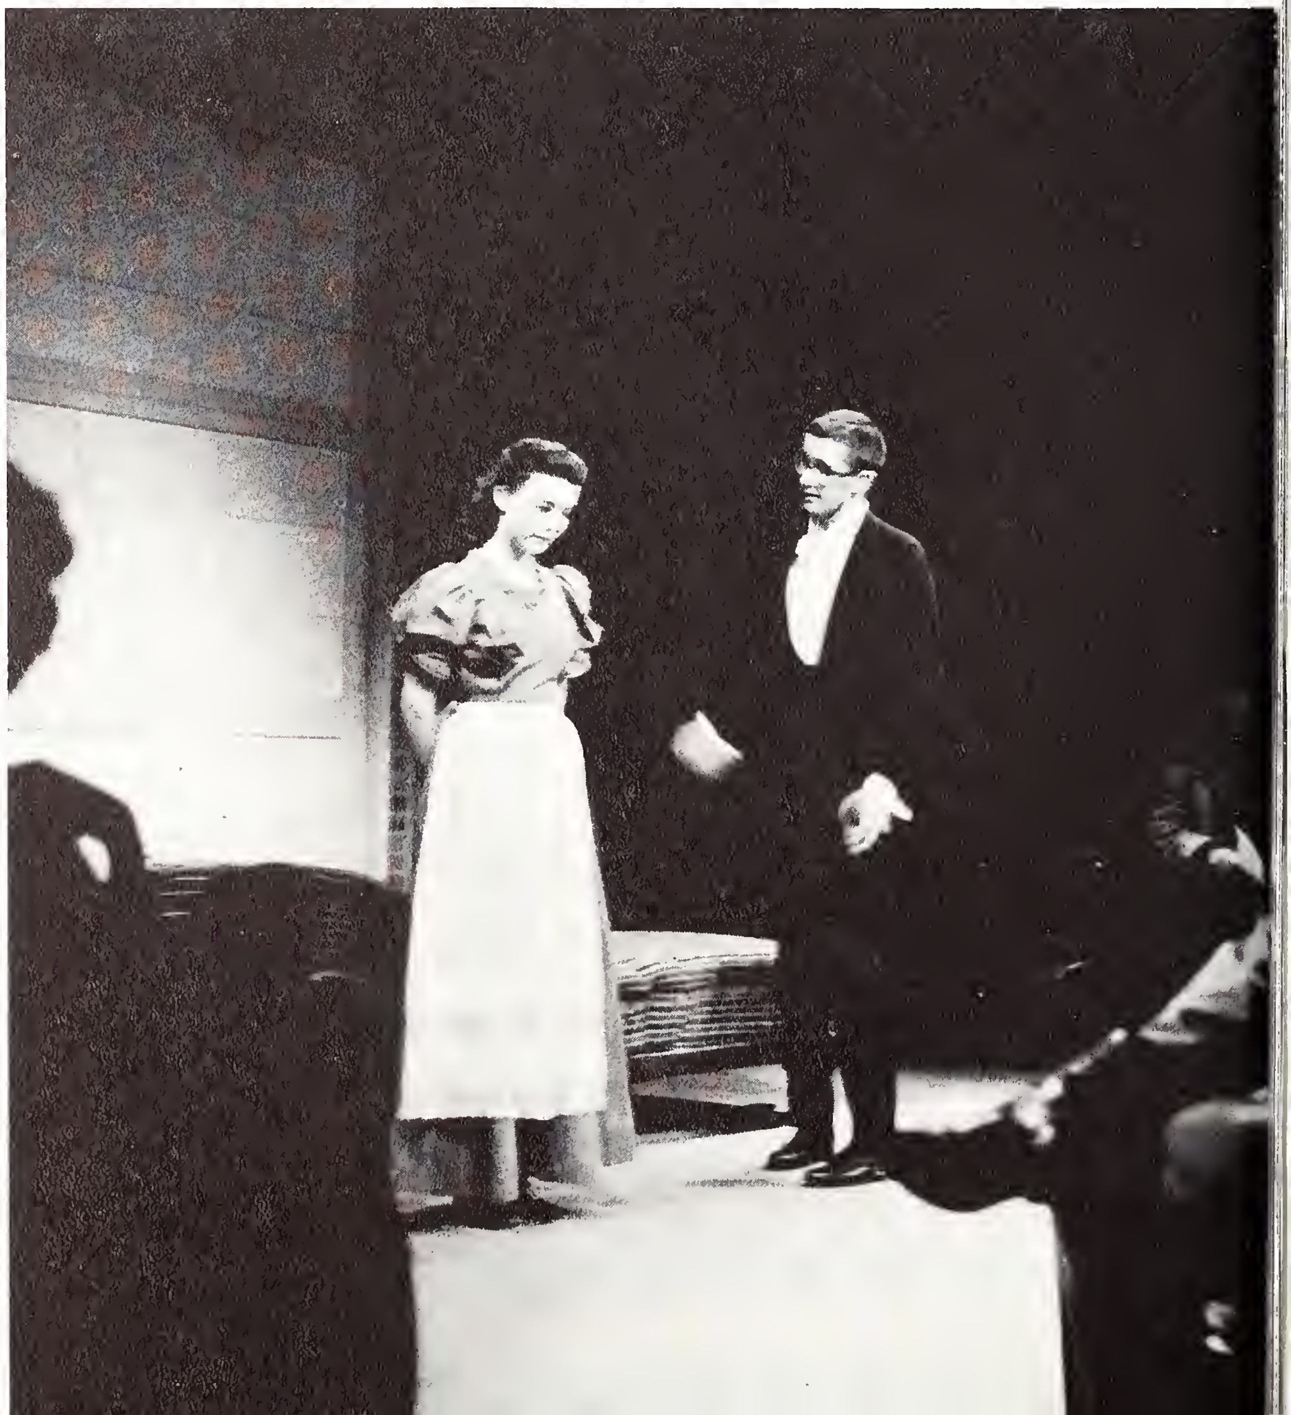
The family argues in "A Season for Crying."



One-Act Drama

Small one-act plays were enacted once each quarter to give amateur student playwrights a chance to demonstrate their literary ability. Short works by well-known playwrights were used to balance the evening's performances.

"The Marriage Proposal" by Chekhov provided amusement in the form of a farce.



Perga seems very alert and wide awake during a debate practice session.

Debaters Martin Perga and Merrill Garrett kept interest in forensics alive at MSC by gaining a top-third classification in the National Intercollegiate Debate competition held at Bowling Green, Ohio.

Merrill Garrett tries to prove his point while the opposition seems to find humor in his deductions.

Symphonic Band

The Symphonic Band, conducted by Ed Sedivy.

Set up as a balanced instrumental group, the 84 member symphonic band gives a number of formal concerts each year. Selected members of the band represent the college on the annual band tour.

Edmund P. Sedivy, director of the MSC Symphonic Band.

Randy Barthelmess, tenor soloist for the Madrigal Singers.

The Twilight Trio, made up of Ben Berg, Ken Nelson, Knut Skram.

From among the many talented performers at MSC, a few individuals and ensembles have been chosen as representative of all such groups, either because of their unusual ability or style of presentation.

Individual Performers

The Planettes, led by Marv Koskela, a familiar sight at all-school dances.

Lanny Fred, talented vocalist for The Vagabonds.

One of the Madrigal soloists, Anna Mae Anderson.

Royalty

An apparent necessity of any human group is that of electing and elevating a few of its members to positions of royalty due to one or more admired and respected qualities. The quality which was most respected by the ancient Greeks was that of beauty. They held the beauty of the human form in reverence, and bestowed honors upon those fortunate individuals who were deemed to be extra-ordinarily attractive in this respect. But, as time passed people became more conscious of other personal attributes. Personality, scholarship, and specific talents are often considered to be just as important as beauty in the royalty contests of today at MSC.

Organizations

In Man's journey through life he must have a means by which to measure his own personal progress. A well established way of accomplishing this is by association with other men. The various clubs and organized living groups on campus provide a method by which the student may acquaint himself with others of both similar and varying interests. The companionship found in these various groups provides a source by which one can benefit from the knowledge of others. Honoraries serve a special purpose by awarding recognition to outstanding individuals in a particular field.

Alpha Gamma Rho

Ranking as the top fraternity scholastically is perhaps the most significant honor coming to the AGR's this year. With a membership consisting chiefly of agriculture majors, Alpha Gamma Rho holds leading positions in many extra-curricular activities at MSC. Sigma Alpha Epsilon

The oldest Greek letter fraternity on campus, Sigma Alpha Epsilon has its share of traditions at MSC. Perhaps the best known of these is "Minerva," the converted touring bus which has carried many unwary passengers under the windows of the SAE house to be drenched by soapsuds. The Pajama Dance, Sig-Alph Olympics and Barn Dance, Easter Breakfast, and Mother's Day function are all important annual events.

Founded nationally in 1856.
Brought to MSC in 1918.

Delta Sigma Phi

Though the most recent addition to the list of fraternities on campus, the Delta Sigs have already shown themselves an active and energetic group. Each year the local Jaycees and the Delta Sigs co-sponsor an Easter Egg Hunt for all Bozeman children. At their Carnation Ball this winter Jan McGuire was crowned as their Dream Girl. Participating in many student affairs, the Delta Sigs hold offices on Student Senate, Student Union Board, and in publications.

Men's Co-op

The Men's Co-op, one of the vital forces among the men's organized living groups, gives active support to many functions at MSC. Their Western Party each winter is a traditional bang-up affair. The main objective of this group is to provide the benefits of cooperative group living to its members with the least possible expense.

Founded at MSC in 1937.

Deserving students who work on major publications receive recognition through selection for the national journalistic honorary, Alpha Phi Gamma. Though relatively new on campus, the group is progressing rapidly, and is already contemplating sponsoring a publications workshop.

Students enjoy the music and entertainment of the Spotlight Dance, which is sponsored annually by Mu Sigma Alpha.

The provision of several scholarships each year for deserving students is the goal of Mu Sigma Alpha. This honorary is composed of music majors and minors, and students who participate actively in musical affairs.

The Classes

If we are to surmount the obstacles which life has placed in the path of man, we must work and study with an open mind.
It is only through continued searching and true learning that we realize how little we really know. Man must often humble himself in the eyes of his fellow man in order to apply wisely the knowledge he finds. We sometimes overlook the true meaning of knowledge, failing to realize that, "Much learning does not teach men to think."
—Heraclitus

During the course of the year many colorful sunsets are seen from our campus. The sunsets come and go each evening with regularity and rhythm, as do the classes each year at Montana State College . . .

Dr. Roy Huffman
Dean of Agriculture

The mainstay of the land grant colleges is agriculture. With America's increasing population, surely one of the most important future fields will be the production of foodstuffs. Education in modern methods and techniques, and continuous research for technological advancements are the important functions of the School of Agriculture.

Approaching their senior year, the juniors have passed the hardest tests of their college days. They've attained leadership, chosen their majors, and exulted over the success of the Junior Prom. They look to a future in which graduation is the certainty; and military, advanced degrees, home life, and professions are the probabilities.

The greatest transition of their lives so far has been accomplished as the Freshmen complete their orientation to college life. The wide-eyed and anxious, the dubious and hopeful have run the gamut of the pea-green year. They are learning their directions on campus and are assured they are becoming collegians.

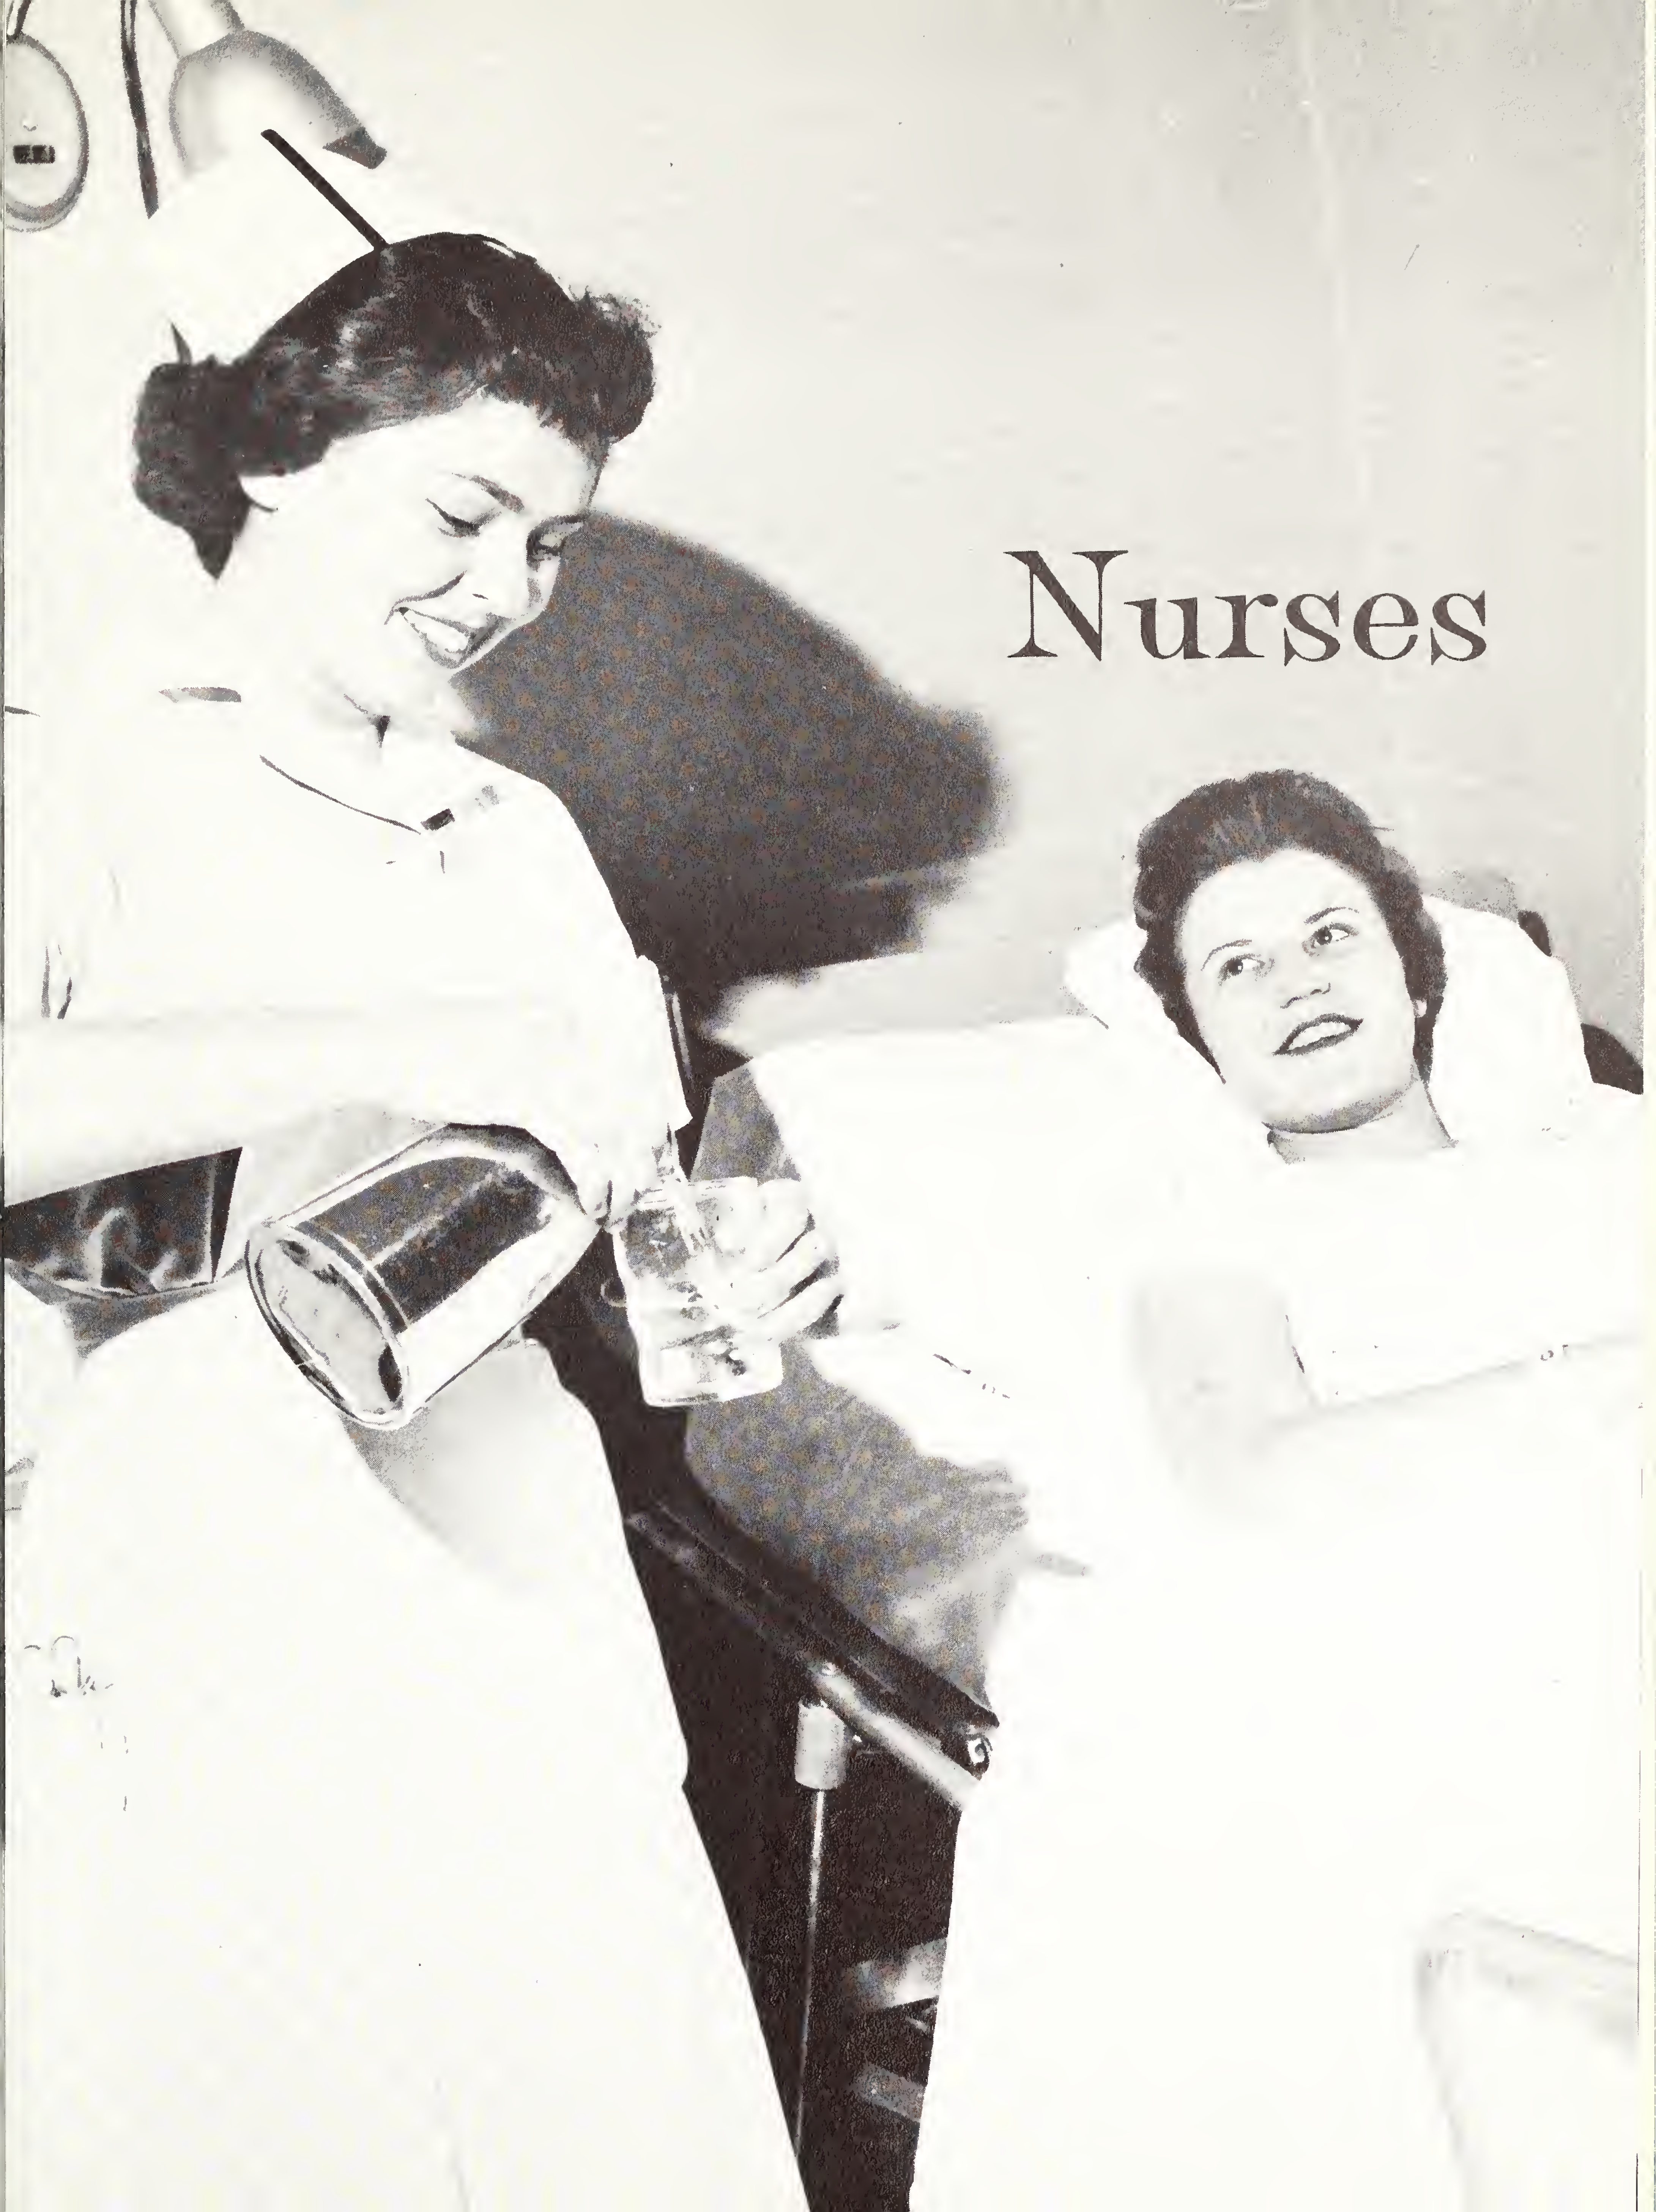
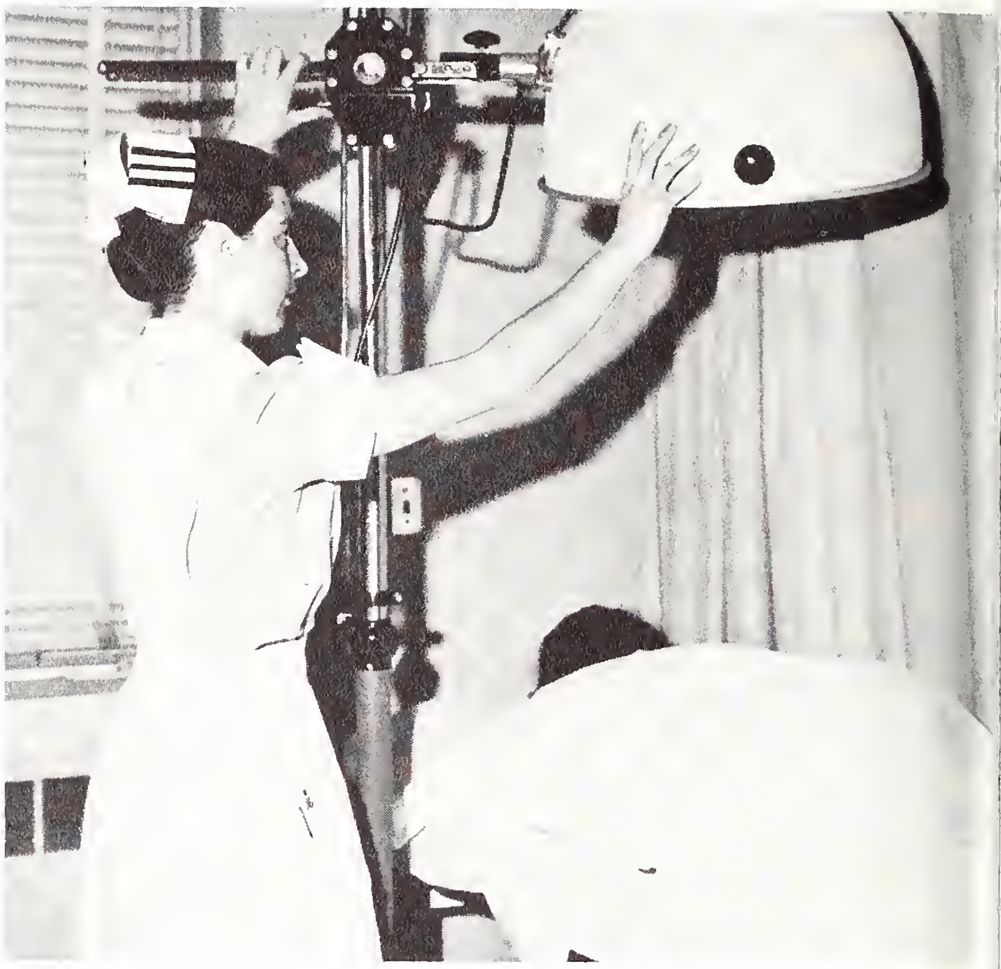
Nurses



Associated Nursing Students is organized for the purpose of coordinating campus activities with the nursing students in the general hospitals while they are obtaining their clinical experience. The student nurses complete the basic natural, physical, and social sciences on campus before entering Billings Deaconess Hospital, Butte Community Memorial Hospital, or Montana Deaconess Hospital at Great Falls for their clinical experience. Although the students are away from campus they are still a part of the student body and take an active part in many of the campus activities.



Carol Burbank assists a patient in the physical therapy department.

Associated Nursing Students

Even more important than physical care is the type of nursing care being given here by Maxine Black.

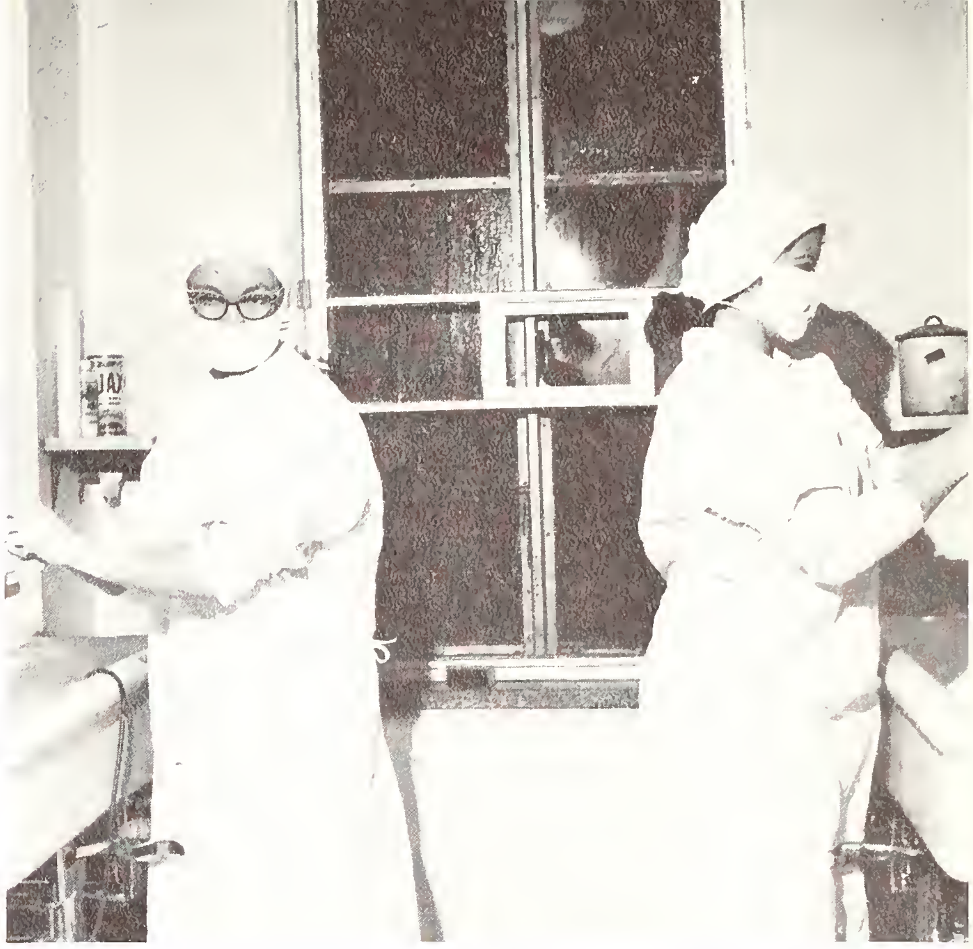
Phyllis Nessan finds caring for the newborn a very rewarding experience.

Florence Kampf and Phyllis Nessan prepare for an emergency operation, one of the interesting experiences in nursing.

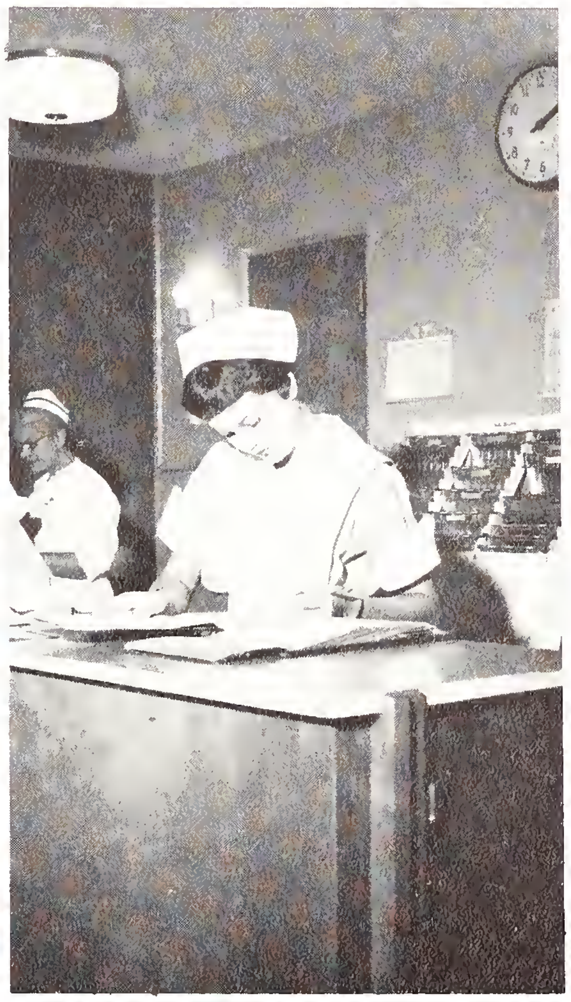
Looks like Sylvia Rittal is hard at it.

An important responsibility of the student nurse is to skillfully and accurately administer hypodermics.

Dorothy Baron has the patient's complete confidence as she explains what is happening.



ould it be that Barbara Good is talking to favorite beau? Nursing isn't all work . . .



Lillian Aure records a picture of her patient to enable the staff to evaluate the patient's needs accurately.

You're going to get "T (ender) L (oving) C (are)," says Vickie Vick, even if you're not interested.

Acknowledgments

The year 1959 at Montana State College is now just a memory in the minds of those who experienced its joys, accomplishments, education, and friendships. Amateur historians that we are, we hope that we have helped you to preserve your memories of this year. I would like to express my sincere appreciation to William Montgomery and Everett O'Hare for their professional color photography, to the staff of Wheelwright Lithographing Company for their cooperation and excellent craftsmanship, to Karleen Skoog and George Mattson for the cover design, to Fred Sanford for the division page drawings, to Don Anderson for the fraternity pin drawings, to Hal Nolde for balancing the books, to the staff and my associate editors for their many office hours, and to the administration and student body for their help and understanding.

Sincerely,
David W. Whitham

Today's Projects Mean Tomorrow's Progress

Montana Power is building today to satisfy your needs tomorrow. In just the past year, The Montana Power Company has completed many projects to bring Montanans all the power they need, when they need it, and where they need it. Here are some of them:

- Cochrane Dam near Great Falls has been completed, adding 60,000 kilowatts of power to the Montana Power system capability.
- A 161,000-volt transmission line was built from Kerr Dam at Polson to Missoula.
- Electric and natural gas facilities in many local areas have been modernized or extended to improve local service.
- A microwave communications system to improve electric and natural gas dispatching is nearly complete.

The Montana Power Company and its predecessors have been serving Montana since the 1880's Reaching for a Star . . .

The student of today may be doing just that tomorrow.

As education presses upon fascinating frontiers
in the race into space,

Adjusting to an era made scientific by missile and satellite.

So industry adjusts,
particularly in metals.

THE ANACONDA COMPANY

Step by Step — Year by Year
Advances This Frontier

Athletics and drama were very popular among the ancient Greeks; magnificent amphitheaters and public buildings were designed and built in an effort to satisfy the spectators . . . A few years ago officials at Montana State College realized that they were faced with a similar situation. A large structure was needed to house many of the events of the rapidly growing school. To satisfy this need, work began on the Montana State College Fieldhouse in 1955. Since its completion in the fall of 1957 it has housed rodeos, concerts, stockshows, military drills, golf, track, and basketball. The fieldhouse capacity is 15,000 for boxing or 12,000 when the semi-portable basketball floor is installed. It is the largest clear-span timber structure of its type in the world. Two hundred fifty-six 1500 watt lamps provide ample lighting for all activities and the building's sound system is second to none.
